And It Cost $ Millions

Lavish School Is Bulging As Pupil Census Grows

By PAUL LEVY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The Pottsgrove Junior-Senior High school opened on Sept. 4, 1957 — a $2.2 million stone and glass monument to education.

The new building — with 30 classrooms, a 2000-volume library, parking for 300 cars, a 900 seat auditorium and even a photographic dark-room — was supposed to solve the jointure's educational space problems — at least on the secondary level.

The residents of Upper, Lower and West Pottsgrove knew there were still overcrowded conditions in the elementary schools. Grades four, five and six, in fact, were so crowded that pupils were on half-sessions. Lower Pottsgrove was forced to open a second kindergarten class for the first time in history.

"But at least the big expense is over," the residents of the Pottsgroves sighed. "The junior-senior high school is completed."

That was less than five years ago.

Today the once gleaming $2.2 million building is overcrowded again. Only by six pupils now, but by an expected 350 pupils by 1966.

"You can't tell how many classrooms we'll need by then," Supervising Principal Howard Michener said Thursday. "Maybe ten. Maybe 20. Maybe more."

The pinch will be felt seriously for the first time during the 1961-62 school year. In June

Another Record Is Toppled; Clean Up Crews Net 105 Tons

Twenty two borough workers completed the fourth day of The Mercury's Clean Up Week campaign Thursday by hefting their way to another one day clean up record—105 tons.

Borough Highway Chief Stanley H. Reider's 16 men and Refuse Collection Supervisor Roy T. Doyle's 6 men boosted their record setting efforts to 367 tons in four days, just 33 tons short of the 400 ton drive record set in 1958.

"There's no doubt we'll set a record this year," Reider claimed Thursday. "We've got another 250 calls to answer, and each day the yield seems to increase."

His cohort in the drive, Doyle, agent for William J. O'Hara in the borough, also felt little doubt the 1961 drive would be the biggest to date. His men netted 40 tons of refuse between midnight and 8:30 a. m. Thursday.

BOTH EXPRESSED gratitude for the "wonderful cooperation and consideration" of borough residents as the drive neared its conclusion.

Before the week's work ends today, borough crews will have traveled more than 3000 miles back and forth across the town. Doyle's men alone will have logged approximately 2400 miles on foot following their trucks on collections.

Doyle, whose crews made double rounds of the borough each day, said the only real obstacle to his part of the campaign was formed by stray dogs and mischievous youths who scattered trash and refuse containers on streets and sidewalks.

"We have to spend a few minutes extra at almost every stop to clean things up. Multiply these minutes by several hundred stops a day, and you can see our problem," he pointed out.

New Scheme (Color) Seen In Police War on Crime

Sound like your wife trying to make up her mind on a new Spring outfit?

Actually it was the police committee trying to decide on the colors for the three new police cars it voted to purchase Thursday night from Howard Cates, incorporated.

In the past there was no problem. The color was tuxedo black — and nothing else.

BUT THURSDAY night the committee voted to change the color. Police Chief Harold E. Hahn admitted tuxedo black was beginning to pall on him.

"How about getting each one a different color," Fourth Ward Councilman Guy J. Sperat Jr., asked.

The suggestion was accepted with alacrity — and loud cheers.

"Make it easier to confuse the crooks," Fifth Ward Councilman Charles Shaner added.

"Also the people who go through stop signs and red lights," Burgess John B. Hartenstine Jr. chimed in.

"And maybe even the police," Tenth Ward Councilman Harold J. Casselberry said sourly. He favored the change but wanted to stick to a single color — gray or white "or maybe even blue."

"Next thing you know they'll start changing the color of the policemen's uniform each Spring," he added.

UNABLE TO decide among the spectrum of high fashion colors, the committee finally decided to leave the selection up to Chief Hahn and Burgess Hartenstine.

Sort of Diors among the automotive world.

Cates' bid on the three new cars was $7195.80. With the trade-in on the three patrol cars now in use, his winning low bid was $2870. Ludwick Motors, of Third and Hanover streets, was the next low bidder with a cost after trade-in of $2973. High bidder, after trade-in at $3474, was Keiser Chevrolet, of 521 High street.

R. W. BOARMAN STRICKEN ILL

Columbia Boiler Company President In Serious Condition

Robert W. Boarman, 44, vice president of the Columbia Boiler company, is gravely ill in Memorial hospital after being stricken suddenly Thursday night.

Boarman, who lives at 350 Rosedale drive, is believed to have suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

R. W. BOARMAN

Dr. S. Russell Ash, his physician, said Thursday night that an exact diagnosis had not been made at that time, but that Boarman was "very serious."

His stunned family was unable to comment. Boarman's health has been good. His father, the late Frank I. Boarman, died just last December in Ft. Lauderdale at the age of 69.

Boarman recently was named to the board of directors of the Security Trust company.

He is a director of Memorial hospital and completed a term on the board of governors of Brookside Country club.

Firemen Plan Housing Program

The Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company Thursday night made final plans for the housing ceremony Saturday, May 13, for a new emergency truck.

The 2 p. m. ceremonies will be attended by borough officials and representatives of all area fire companies. It was reported at the meeting that the Ladies auxiliary has donated a beacon light for the vehicle.

In other business, nine junior firemen were reported being trained in the present class. Seven proposals for membership were accepted and nine new members inducted.

Fire Chief Victor Fegley reported nine fire calls during April. President Calvin Craft presided over the meeting attended by 29 members.

Enterprising Youth Really Cleans Up

Exhibiting some of the enterprise which made him the top schoolboy worker in The Mercury's fifth annual Clean Up Week campaign was 17 year old Richard Fera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Fera, 1034 Hale street. Fera, vice president of the student council at Pottstown High school and a Junior, turned in the highest clean up tally of 415 pupils entered in the school's competition. He is shown above carting newspapers and an old rug from his house.

High School Pupils Go All Out to Add Sparkle to Town

Pottstown High school pupils claimed an early victory Thursday in the borough wide school competition of The Mercury's fifth annual Clean Up Week.

In the first such school competition, 55 percent of the school's pupils took active parts. They reported some 3486 individual home projects.

Leading the school in projects contributed was 17 year old Richard Fera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Fera, 1034 Hale street. He chalked up efforts in almost everyone of the 46 categories.

Winning class of the 22 participating was the Senior homeroom of Mirian V. Ludwig. It boasted a runaway win of 274 projects.

COORDINATING the school's efforts in the drive were the school cabinet and faculty. Each day throughout the campaign they made special announcements boosting an all out pupil effort.

Learning of the school's success in the campaign, Superintendent of Schools Havard E. Fosnocht termed its endeavors "excellent", and "an inspiring example of good citizenship."

"These pupils showed they possess a great deal of pride in their community. Their community. Their zeal and ambition should serve as an example for pupils in other towns for years to come," he said.

MOST POPULAR of categories were those which allowed pupils to work outdoors in the warm weather which borough officials termed one of the

Sunshine Erases Chill Portents Of Frosty Morn

If April showers bring May flowers, then what does May frost bring?

Evidently good weather later in the day, if Thursday's weather trends are any criteria.

The frost, the first in weeks, laid a white carpet along the banks of Manatawny creek. Early temperatures "plunged" to 43 degrees — the lowest since Sunday when the mercury slipped to 41.

But from a 7 a. m. low the temperatures climbed steadily to a nine-day high of 66—making Wednesday "the finest overall day — weatherwise — since April 23," according to the weatherman.

"ON THAT day temperatures reached 70 degrees and the sky was sunny 90 percent of the day. Wednesday temperatures reached 66 degrees at 6 p. m. and the sky was sunny 80 percent of the time," he explained.

"Which just goes to prove that "all's well that ends well," the man who keeps track of the clouds and temperatures added.

And talking about "all's well," today should be even nicer with temperatures nearing the 70 degree mark and few clouds predicted.

Teachers Back Campaign for Spotless Borough

Borough teachers displayed a deep interest in The Mercury's Clean Up Week, as exhibited by the number of parents Thursday trying frantically to find check lists for the drive sent home with their children.

One mother of three grade school tots bemoaned, "if I don't find those lists my life won't be worth two cents."

"My children's teachers said they couldn't come into school Friday without the lists or notes giving a good reason for their loss," she related.

Highway department Clean Up crews haven't found the past four day's work dull, as evidenced by bits of camaraderie witnessed by many borough residents in the early hours of collections.

One example was seen at King and Hanover streets at 8 a.m., when the day's

More Local Doctors in Special Fields, But 'Generals' Thrive

Authorities long have suspected most physicians are becoming full time specialists. It finally has been confirmed.

A Mercury survey of local statistics shows that although general practitioners hold a slim lead over specialists, the number of specialists in Pottstown has increased 100 percent in the last 12 years.

Pottstown today has 27 general practitioners and 24 specialists. Some of these "GPs" have a speciality in the medical field, but still practice as the traditional "family doctor."

In 1949, there were 26 general practitioners here, but only 12 specialists.

HOW DO THESE figures and the changes compare with the national scene?

A new America Medical Association directory listing 251,643 physicians shows that 56 percent of the 185,595 physicians in active nonmilitary practice are full-time specialists. Since 1949, the profession has seen a whopping 64 percent increase in specialists nationally.

A 6 percent drop in GPs nationally is shown, with a 38 percent drop in parttime specialists. The fact that Pottstown has actually gained—though just a single "GP"—in 12 years, has a special significance.

When coupled with the idea that everyone should have a family doctor, the nationwide decline is of great concern. In 1949, there was one GP for every 2062 persons, today there's one for every 2617 persons. The trend indicates each GP will be responsible for many more patients in the

Township Protests Annexation of New Development

Colebrookdale township charged Thursday that the annexation of the proposed Orchard Hills development by Boyertown would "unfairly deprive the township of an important part of its tax base."

The charges were leveled in the third and concluding day of testimony before three court appointed commissioners in the Berks county courthouse. The first two days of testimony were heard in March and April.

Colebrookdale Secretary Henry J. Werstler and Musa J. Eways, township engineer, spent almost four hours on the stand defending the township against the charges of the Orchard Hills development corporation.

The developers of the proposed 56 homes charged in earlier testimony that they were seeking annexation by Boyertown because the township is unable to provide the necessary water and sewer facilities.

EWAYS, a representative of Mast Engineering company, Reading, claimed that if Orchard Hills remains in the township a proposed sewage treatment plant can be completed in three months, sewage facilities in the development in six months and complete sewer service in the township in one year.

He also claimed that the addition of the 56 homes in the general sewer structure would drop the overall cost of the system by one-seventh. Both claims were disputed by Boyertown Borough Manager Rowland A. Read.

Eways also opposed annexation on the grounds that "this would just be the start of a "whittling away" process that would eventually leave the township with nothing more than a name."

While he concentrated on the township's efforts to provide sewage facilities, a focal point of the legal struggle, Werstler concentrated his fire on the economic effects to the township.

He explained that "the township will be injured if Orchard Hills is allowed to be annexed. The development will be an important addition to the tax base."

WERSTLER ALSO claimed that a zoning code is in the preparation stage but admitted that neither a planning nor zoning board has been created. He also said the

DISPUTED MOVIE BRINGS HOT DEBATE

'Operation Abolition' Shown at ABC Meeting

Heated opinions were exchanged Thursday night following a showing of the opinion-arousing movie, "Operation Abolition" at the regular meeting of the American Business club of Pottstown in the Elks Home.

The film, produced by the House committee on Un-American Activities, was presented by retired Col. Charles H. Harberger, 131 King street, a member of the American Legion.

In the question and answer period that followed, ABC members seemed evenly divided between: "Why did we ever make it?" "It doesn't make sense!" to "We ought to do something about it," and "It should be seen by everyone!"

The movie was filmed at San Francisco, where it depicted riots that occurred during hearings of the House committee on Un-American Activities.

DAR Favors Film On Riots

The film, made by the House Un-American Activities committee, deals with allegedly Communist-inspired riots at the hearings of the House committee in San Francisco.

Mrs. D. C. Knauer, member of the DAR, said that the film was shown to members at the American Legion home Thursday afternoon.

"I think the film should be shown to the public," she said. "So that more people can become aware of what's going on."

18 TEACHERS TO BE HIRED FOR SCHOOL

District Psychologist Expected to Be Named

BUDGET SESSION SCHEDULED MONDAY

By RUDFORD CROUSE

MAYES ENTERS LOWEST BID FOR STREET WORK

Highway Committee Receives 3 Other Bids

Perkasie Contractor John Mayes entered the apparent low bid of $16,212 for the construction of Mervine street from North Charlotte to North Hanover streets.

Three other bids were also accepted by the highway-sewer committee in a 15 minute meeting Thursday night. The meeting adjourned early so the councilmen could attend the viewing of Borough Treasurer Lawrence O. Garner, who died Monday.

The other bidders and their base bids were: Oley Construction company, $17,797; Earl J. Breneman, Warwick settlement, $19,285; and Oliver H. Reed, Gilbertsville, $19,544.

The bids only included excavation, base construction and surfacing. Additional bids for sewer work will be tabulated and studied by the borough manager's office. The bid will probably be awarded at Monday night's borough council meeting.

Fire Hazard Checks Continue

Ten service stations and public garages on West High street were inspected Thursday by Fire Marshal Lewis J. Kirby as the crackdown on potential fire hazards continued.

The inspections stem from the recent service station explosion in Philadelphia which killed three firemen and sent 30 others to the hospital.

Kirby said there were no major violations though he did order the location of fire extinguishers in several of the stations.

The ten inspected Thursday brings to 32 the total inspected since the campaign started. There are 56 service stations and garages in the borough.

Driver Is Injured In Intersection Crash

E. J. Gore, Perkiomenville RD 1, was injured Thursday night when a pickup truck he was driving went off the road at Hickory Park, the intersection of Routes 663 and 73. Gore was taken to Pottstown hospital by Jeffersonville State Police where six stitches were taken in a cut in his forehead. Gore was then discharged.

Pastor Cites Achievements, Goals As Bethel Conference Year Closes

BROWNBACK'S, SEVEN STARS AREA—Phone HY 5-6275, Lile McDonald, Del., Phone Glenview 8-5219.

Victory Sunday, the last in the current conference year, was observed at Bethel Methodist church, Spring City RD 1. The Rev. W. S. Johnston, pastor, presented a formal resume of the conference year's accomplishments and goals during morning worship.

The service was divided into several different parts and following each portion, the choir led the congregation in the singing of the Doxology, each time to a different tune. Organist Mrs. Amos A. Bean and pianist Mrs. Joseph Somics provided instrumental accompaniment. Fifteen baptisms were performed, five weddings and nine funerals during the year.

Accomplishments enumerated included extensive renovation of the parsonage, surfacing of a large parking lot and church drives; reorganization of the church music with the securing of choir directress, Mrs. W. Howard Montgomery; an increase in Sunday evening service attendance; and bringing up to date the church charter. New fluorescent lights are presently being installed in the church basement and assembly room adjoining the church sanctuary.

The Rev. Johnston outlined next year's goal, "To accomplish the same goals as this year in addition to new ones and also meet the needs of the children of tomorrow but not forgetting a reverence for our forefathers."

AN EFFORT will be made to gain the interest of more persons in the community and build up the organizations, their attendance, activities and goals for next year. More emphasis will be placed on the church seasons and special observances during the year.

An innovation during the tenure of the Rev. Johnston is the printing of a 100-word message entitled "The Thought for the Week," written by the pastor.

IN OBSERVANCE of Youth Temperence Week, youth of Bethel Methodist made posters on a temperance theme. Posters are currently on display at the church. Three prizes will be awarded to the best posters Sunday.

Twenty youth entered posters, each of which will receive recognition. They include, Joanne Peterman, Lucetta and Ida Moyer, Charles Walleigh, Anna and Robert Shantz, Linda Wisler, Marsha Clevenstine, Cheryl and Dennis Montgomery, Gene Bechtel, Jacquelyn Bilger, Sarah and Sandra Handwork, Harold and Joan Hall, and Mary Louise Schenck.

The Harmony Trumpeteers, a four-part trumpet ensemble from Philadelphia, provided special music for the vesper service climaxing Victory Sunday. Members of the musical group are Albert Walter, tenor; Harry Yutzler, soprano; Walter McDowell, alto; and William Simpson, Bass. Several vocal quartet selections were also presented by the group. The church Methodist Youth Fellowship group had charge of attendance for the service.

A meeting of the trustee board of Bethel church was held for the purpose of reorganization. President is J. Howard Taschner; vice president, Charles J. Isett; secretary, Joseph Kern. Other newly elected-trustees are Stephen Keen, Seneca Mowrer. Norman Favinger, Elton Mowrer, Roy Hall and James W. Moyer.

Two Insurance Brokers Named UF Campaigners

Jacob R. Sotter and Richard P. Stamm, two seasoned United Fund volunteer campaigners, Thursday were named to important posts in this year's drive by Frederick L. Raker, general campaign chairman.

Jacob Sotter

The two men, both insurance brokers, are members of the United Fund's board of directors. Sotter will serve as chairman of the professional division and Stamm will head the business teams.

The professional group solicited $29,139 in the ninth annual campaign a year ago, while the business people donated $26,403.

In budget sessions at the Citizens office of the Philadelphia National bank Thursday afternoon, three agencies entered requests for 1961 allotments.

THE MEMORIAL hospital requested $20,000, as predicted in Thursday's Mercury. The Young Women's Christian association asked $19,000 and the Montgomery county chapter, Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children proposed a $5950 figure.

Memorial hospital received $12,000 of a requested $20,000 in 1960. The YWCA asked a higher amount—$19,800—last year and was granted $17,000. PARC requested substantially less—only $4000—during the last campaign, and was allocated $2500.

William M. Hiester and Frederick G. Erb, budget co-chairmen, conducted the conferences.

The next budget meetings will be Monday at 2 p. m. when Pottstown hospital, the Family Service and the Girl Scouts of America will enter their 1961 requests.

Eagles Elect Officer Slate

Officers were elected Thursday night at the meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 626.

Also, Andrew Kisch, inside guard; Albert Bernosky, outside guard; Granville Wagner, treasurer; Sheldrake Hartman, trustees for three years.

The State officers of the past worthy presidents of the Fraternal Order of the Eagles are: Paul B. Stonesifer, president, Hartman, trustee for three years, and Wagner, delegate.

Two new members were also accepted at the meeting.

Murray, past worthy president, was in charge of the meeting attended by 30 members.

Pottstown Pastor Remains in Hospital

The Rev. Robert H. Roedel, assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, said Thursday that the Rev. William M. Begley, pastor of the church is still in the Fitzgerald Mercy hospital, Darby, undergoing a series of medical examinations.

There has been no change in his condition and only a possibility remains that he will be able to return for the services on Sunday. Services in the meantime are being conducted by the Rev. John S. Heim, assistant rector and Father Roedel. Father Begley was admitted to the hospital on Sunday.

Law is Obsolete

POTTSTOWN needs a thorough overhauling of its zoning laws.

Contention in the past few years, complicated by some hewing to the line in zoning regulations and variances in others, has caused widespread questioning as to the worth of the law.

Right now a Pottstown attorney plans to go into council's session to ask that the law be changed. He has a good case. Adherence to the letter of the law is retarding Pottstown's growth.

The basis for this lawyer's plea is a turndown for a new apartment house in the North End. The contractors would like to build a garden type apartment house with 48 units. The zoning commission says land is available for only 30 units, according to present requirements. The builders say they can't economically build less than 48.

Why is there no variance issued here?

The proposed apartment house is within a stone's throw of the present Belmont apartments of 70 units. It would be built on vacant ground — some of the little building space remaining in Pottstown. It is far removed from private residences; only two or three homes are within 600 feet of the proposed building.

The builders plan to put up this apartment on North Warren street, between Prospect and Grace streets. Protestants, who say such a building would clutter the area with parkers, predominantly come from limits beyond the area fixed by law as having the right to protest.

Who, then is against the apartment?

One of the zoning board has a business partner who signed a petition to allow the building to go up. He voted against the move. Industries say more housing is needed here. They signed petitions.

One of the borough officials who opposed the move is said to have received a zoning variance himself to build a home. Why is he opposed to this move?

Chief objector is said to be a theorist from out of town who asks: "Why does Pottstown want more people? Why not have it retain its small town status?"

There are many in Pottstown who could give many answers to why more people are wanted here. The type of person who could afford to rent one of the new apartments at $125 a month should be a desirable citizen. He would be in the upper income bracket. He would be a good taxpayer — who would furnish money for more local services. He would be a wealthy shopper, a good contributor to churches and other civic organizations. He would help build schools and pay teachers. He would be an asset to the community.

Why shouldn't Pottstown grow? It can't remain in the small town class. Persons who oppose progress are out of step with the times.

Right now another contractor wants to build an apartment house in another section of the town — south of High street. Will the decision against the North End building influence this project?

Pottstown needs a thorough overhauling of its zoning laws. Council has provided in its 1961 funds for a re-survey. Council should waste no time in getting down to this work.

The progress of Pottstown is at stake!

$100 Million A Day

MANY thoughtful columns and articles have been written about the new administration's first 100 days in office.

None that we saw mentioned the cost, which runs to $100 million for each of these days, if programs proposed since January are carried out.

Starting from the Eisenhower budget, this is the record of the changes by this administration:

For 1961, it proposed $5 billion 73 million in new spending authority, increased expenditure estimates by $1.7 billion and turned a projected $79 million surplus into a $2.1 billion deficit.

For 1962, it requested $5.1 billion in new spending authority, increased the estimate of expenditure by $3.4 billion and turned a projected $1.4 billion surplus into a $2.8 billion deficit.

For the two years, new spending authority requested is $10.2 billion—averaging $100 million a day in schemes and plans, with almost half of this to be paid for by inflationary deficity spending.

These figures are impressive and would raise the Federal budget for 1962 to $84.3 billion.

Yet, they don't tell the full story.

For the programs started in 1961 and 1962 would draw small amounts at the beginning compared to their costs when they are well under way in future years.

A Pity — But True

To the Editor: Americans are a prudent people.

Look at the evidence: In a recent poll, 63 percent of those questioned said the President and Congress should do something about holding down prices and preventing inflation.

Americans are a good-hearted people.

Look at the evidence: In the same poll, 52 percent of those who answered said they thought the powers that be ought to get busy and provide more medical care of the aged.

Americans are a generous people who like to see the other fellow get a break.

Look at the evidence: In the poll, 48 percent said Congress and the chief executive should boost the minimum wage to $1.25 per hour.

Amercans are people who also like to see themselves get a break.

Look at the evidence: The poll turned up 46 percent who thought the government ought to "reduce taxes for people like myself."

More medical care for the aged, more Federal aid to education (said 40 percent), more housing and slum clearance (38 percent), more spending on national defense (31 percent) and to cut unemployment (28 percent)—but still "balance the budget by cutting government spending" (37 percent) and, above all, "reduce taxes for people like myself."

Yep, Americans are prudent, good-hearted and generous.

But Americans, judging by that poll, also are a people who need a fast lesson or two in arithmetic and the relationship between cause and effect."

It's Your Money

To the Editor: "Gaze at this magnificent structure," declares the government official, pointing at a new housing project or bridge, or superhighway. "Built entirely with government funds," he continues, the implication clear that no mere private group could do anything quite as good.

But where did the government get its funds to build this "magnificent structure"?

Not from anything the government produced or sold or some service it performed. No, the government—Federal, state or local—got its funds from the people who earned wages and salaries or ran business and paid their share of taxes.

If We Had Landed

To the Editor: What, in the face of a U.S.-backed invasion of Cuba would have been the "civil" thing for the communists to have done?

If the term "communists" means Castro's supporters in Cuba, were they to have greeted the invasion with open arms?

If the Soviet union is meant, was it to have given up this opportunity to attack the United States before the world?

It is now admitted that the Cubans obviously are not as disillusioned with Castro as the refugees in Miami would have us believe.

Perhaps, instead of complaining about the lack of enthusiasm for the invasion shown by our allies in Latin America, we should make an "agonizing reappraisal" of the Cuban situation.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane", she began, "my husband criticizes everything I do.

"And he flares up on the slightest excuse. Then he even curses me right in front of our 7 year old boy.

"He even calls me vile names and says he never did love me, even on our wedding day.

"Altnough I try my best to be a good wife and mother, where have I failed?

"I am a pretty good cook, and keep the house fairly neat and clean.

"And I teach a Sunday school class and belong to the PTA, so I try to be a good influence on my son. What's wrong?"

IT TAKES two good women to make a good husband, and the first is his mother. If she spoils her son and permits him to grow up as a temper tantrum brat, even an angel from heaven may not be able to live with him.

So you girls should shop around wisely before you say "yes" to a proposal.

Visit the man's home before you marry. Talk to his friends and even his former school teachers.

"Case" the man as thoroughly as a modern bank robber "cases" his next victim. For you invest your entire life when you marry, so use some American gumption (horse sense).

WHEN PEOPLE flare up in temper, it usually means they are unduly fatigued, hungry or overly irritated.

Donna's husband was in a partnership with a brother whose wife was bookkeeper of the firm. The latter was "milking" the partnership of money for her personal shopping sprees.

Donna knew that and so did her husband. But he hestitated to make a fuss, out of loyalty to his brother.

Yet it rankled and he often came home full of ire, which erupted on his wife and child, though it should have been vented on his brother and the latter's wife.

This is a common form of "transference", where a business or professional man projects anger on his family that was generated at his place, of work.

It is simply displaced anger, transferred to the safety of his home where he figures he can get it off his chest without losing customers or his job.

By EVE STARR

STARRLITEM: Most girls would be delighted to play guardian to a 37-23-36 figure artistically imposed on a 110-pound, 5-feet-3 frame and this is not to imply that Julie London is exactly unhappy with it.

She owns it, it's hers and on her it looks good. What she is unhappy about is the wrong impact it makes on the right people, the right people being producers of dramatic shows.

Julie is most familiar to veteran viewers as Jack Webb's ex-wife and a sultry singer of songs. She would like to become more familiar as Bobby Troup's wife and a dramatic actress.

The wife part is on the record. She is a bride of some 17 months, having been married New Year's eve 1959. The dramatic actress part is also on the record, but the roles are hard to come by and apparently are forgotten the instant she sallies forth as Julie London, singer, all gussied up in a dress that would make a mermaid gasp for water.

I'VE DONE 13 albums," Julie explains, "and every time I do an album they have to have an album cover. So there are 13 pictures of me circulating around the country, none of them designed to advertise me as an actress. You know the type. They look good, but they're not me. Producers see these things—and if they cast me at all, they cast me as the nightclub singer with one scene, one song and one line."

The fact of the matter is that Julie was an actress long before she ever thought of singing, even in the shower.

But she dropped out of sight during her seven-year marriage to Webb and it wasn't until after the divorce that she met Bobby Troup and got prodded into being a singer.

IT WOULD be stretching a point to say she's been crying ever since, but she would like a few more opportunities to do some acting.

Actually, she's done six dramatic TV shows in the past six months, which is not a bad record at all for a girl who is not supposed to be an actress in the first place—or at least not in the myopic eyes of Hollywood's producers.

"It's always been like that in Hollywood," she shrugs philosophically. "The girl with the really good figure just isn't supposed to be able to act. Every once in a great while, one breaks through—like Marilyn Monroe. I have no pretensions about being the greatest dramatic actress that ever came down the pike, but it would be nice to play something other than the decorative femme fatale for a change. Girls with figures have the same emotions and feelings as anyone else, you know, and even the same brains." Miss London has a point there.

Interpreting The News

West Must Modify Stand On Socialism

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

There is some thinking in Washington that the United States will have to back away from her hard sell of formal democracy to emerging nations in favor of almost any non-Communist types of social and economic institutions which promise stability during a long-term soft sell.

There is a trend toward new standards for judging new regimes.

In the process, such terms as state planning, socialism and even authoritarianism are losing some of their odor. Though totalitarianism as generally understood is still taboo.

Doubts are being dissolved in such cases as India's, where socialism, local and foreign private enterprise are being promoted side by side. After all, Britain and France do this, too.

The formal forms of what the West calls democracy have proved too intricate and too expensive for many new nations until political maturity and economic stability can be developed to support it.

The new emphasis in Washington is on independence first for those like the new African nations which wish to hold themselves outside the orbits of both East and West.

The major test for cooperation in the future seems likely to be whether the institutions of such countries aim at social justice, and represent the general will of their peoples rather than the desires of special minorities and Communist borers.

If Marxism is not linked with the Red Chinese-Soviet totalitarian perversions of the theory, and does not contribute to Communist expansion, it will be tolerated, as in Guinea.

If Nkrumah's one party and almost one-man rule does not violate these limits or become oppressive of the people, Ghana will not be read out of the family.

On the other hand, the soft sell of Western political ideals will be continued in anticipation of the day when, through economic aid and political education, independence and stability have been brought to a level where political philosophy can compete for public attention.

War has always brought a temporary sacrifice of some of the less fundamental trappings of democracy for the sake of winning.

State planning—war mobilization—and authoritarian control of living conditions were commonplace among the democracies during World War II. Long-range independence became more important.

Now the thinking is that a similar attitude may be required to win this new type of war, with independence, stability and neutrality more important in many countries than impotent expressions of democracy or affection for the West.

Lightning Strikes Twice... Salesman In Field...

★ REPEAT — A timeless proverb says lightning never strikes twice in the same place. But to Mrs. Horace J. Princenthal, 212 Moyer road, Pottstown RD 3, better known to localites as "Dene", secretary to Borough Manager Robert H. McKinney Jr., lightning's return visits have a unique meaning. In her life lightning has struck in the form of heart attacks to several persons close to her. The first time death came with a lightning stroke close to her in the form of a heart attack was 15 years ago. Her paternal grandfather, Monroe Laver, was riding into town for a visit with her father Robert E. Laver, driving. Without a word, he slumped down in the front seat, apparently asleep. Actually, his sleep was a permanent one—he was dead of a heart attack. Then five years later, Mrs. Princenthal's paternal grandmother, also on her way to visit the family in Pottstown with a nephew, also apparently fell asleep. But she, too, was dead of a heart attack. . . .

THE FRIGHTENING coincidence of the two deaths had a striking effect on Mrs. Princenthal's father. A strong, energetic man, he was employed since he was 16 years old as proctor at The Hill school. But since Mrs. Princenthal was 13 year old, she recalled her father also suffered heart ailments. The death of his parents filled him with fear of a similar mishap. When he was 46, and supervisor of maintenance crews at the Hill, he was driving through town on Dec. 29, 1955. He became ill, complained of a pain in his stomach. Apparently dreading a recurrence of his parents' fate while driving a car, he pulled over to the side of the road. A passing motorist found him slumped over the wheel a few minutes later. He died shortly afterward. Cause—a heart attack. The most recent close visitation of this grim visitor came the past Monday morning. Mrs. Princenthal's neighbor and close friend, Lawrence O. Garner, 1045 Queen street, borough treasurer nine years, was driving to Emmaus along Route 29. He slumped over the wheel of his car. He also was dead at age 64 of a heart attack.

★ SALESMAN — A farmer and businessman in the Pottstown area for many years, Joseph W. Bishop, Buchert road, Pottstown Route 18, joined the staff of Real Estate Agent N. Douglas Ottinger, 232 King street, as a salesman. After graduating from Pottstown High school in 1930 and attending Temple university, Bishop began farming during the depression years. In the process of buying and selling a number of farms, homes and building in the area surrounding Pottstown, Bishop witnessed the increase in modern technology in farming methods and the trend toward specialization. For some time he and his wife, the former Irene Rogers, owned the Washington grill at 16-18 North Washington street. He is 48 year old. The Bishops are the parents of two sons and two daughters. . . .

CATCH — A catfish, 15 inches of it, was banked at Ringing Rocks lake by 13 year old Barry Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fernly S. Keller, 832 North Washington street. Happy onlookers who had to settle for suckers as their day's catch were James and Samuel Anhalt, Darrell Raysor and John Weidensaul. Keller's catch weighed a pound and a half. . . . Army Pfc. Donald A. Clemmer, son of Arthur S. Clemmer, Bechtelsville, is scheduled to leave Ft. Riley, Kansas, next Friday for Korea. Clemmer entered the Army in June 1960. He is a 1955 graduate of Boyertown Area High school.

★ MOVES—Mrs. George E. Dwyer, Third and Hanover streets, sold her home and left for Bethesda, Md., where she will live with her daughter, Mrs. Ray Daggs. The elder Mrs. Dwyer is the widow of the former well known Pottstown barber. She sold her home to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Matichak, 860 South street. Matichak works at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company. . . In another move, George B. Jones, 266 North Hanover street, who owned the house adjacent to Mrs. Dwyer, sold the property through Realtor Gary Prutzman to Ernest Dickinson, Sanatoga. . . . Frederick D. Hoffman, 453 North Evans street, stationed with the Army in Munich, Germany, has been promoted to specialist fourth class. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Hoffman, 612 Farmington avenue, he is married to the former Marie McClellan. The couple left on a 15 day trip of Switzerland, France and Italy to "celebrate" the promotion. . . Frank J. Thees, airman apprentice, US Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thees, 119 N. Evans street, is serving at the Naval air station, Pensacola, Fla. . . . GIVE AWAY DEP'T—Dog, male, three years old, John Morgan, Schwenksville RD 1, AT 7-3551 . . . Dog, female, three years old, Edward Sitko, Perkiomenville RD 1, PL 4-3118. . . # Astronaut Has Complex Emergency Controls at His Finger Tips

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —There are more than 20 different actions astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., can take to save his life if emergencies arise during his 15-minute flight into space and back.

The 115-mile-high rocket ride is scheduled for 8 a. m. Friday weather permitting.

From the moment he climbs into the 9x6-foot capsule now waiting atop a Redstone rocket until he splashes into the ocean some 290 miles downrange, the 37-year-old Navy test pilot will be in some danger.

But he will not be helpless. With his trained split-second reflexes he should be able to meet almost any crisis.

Suppose he is in the capsule waiting for lift-off and gets a warning signal that the fueled Redstone booster is about to explode. If ground equipment fails to do so, Shepard can fire a small rocket on a tower atop the capsule. This will jerk the capsule away from the booster and on up to an altitude of 2,000 feet, where a parachute will open and drop the capsule safely to earth.

If the Redstone should stray off course and have to be destroyed during the first 140 seconds after launch, Shepard can escape by taking the same action.

At 140 seconds after launch, the escape tower should pull away from the capsule automatically. It has to be jettisoned as soon as the danger of the booster exploding is past because it would interfere with future maneuvers. If the jettisoning of the tower does not occur automatically, Shepard can trigger the action by hand.

Ten seconds later, the capsule must separate from the booster. If it fails to do so automatically, and if signals from the ground should for some reason prove ineffective, Shepard himself can fire another set of small rockets to push the capsule away from the booster.

If the cabin air conditioning or pressure-suit oxygen should fail, Shepard can switch to alternate systems by hand.

It is vital for him to be in constant communication with the ground, to keep informed of emergencies he may not immediately sense. If his voice circuits should go out of order, Shepard can resort to a code key something like telegraph operators use.

The capsule, shaped like a light bulb, will be fired into space with the socket end upward. Before it can re-enter the atmosphere safely, it must be turned around 180 degrees so that the blunt end hits the air first. Only the blunt end has been shielded against the 3,000 degrees of heat that air friction will build up during re-entry. This turnaround should occur automatically. If it doesn't, it can be done by ground command. But should all this fail, Shepard can still manually operate small steam jets that will make his craft turn around in space.

In some future Mercury launchings, the capsule is to go into orbit around the earth. In order to slow down so it can fall back into the atmosphere, the capsule carries a set of rockets on its base—not big rockets, just powerful enough to cut its speed. These rockets, too, should fire automatically. If they don't, Shepard can shoot them by hand.

After being fired, the braking rockets must be cast aside to streamline the space craft for re-entry into the air. If automatic jettisoning fails, Shepard can ditch these rockets by hand.

Once the capsule is in space, a flap will open and a periscope extend to give Shepard a view of the earth. The periscope must be retracted, however, for proper streamlining before re-entry. If it fails to retract automatically, Shepard can do it himself.

After the capsule has re-entered the atmosphere, a small six-foot-diameter parachute should open automatically at 21,000 feet altitude. If it doesn't, Shepard can release it manually.

At 10,000 feet, the main 63-foot parachute is scheduled to open automatically. If it fails to do so, Shepard can free it, too, by hand controls.

If the main chute still sticks, Shepard can release a second big chute.

After splashing into the ocean, he will want the big chute cut loose before the wind can catch it and drag the capsule across the waves. Should the automatic cut-away system fail, Shepard can operate it.

Upon impact, a radio in the capsule should begin sending out signals to help search planes find the astronaut. If it doesn't, Shepard will have a personal radio transmitter ready to take over.

If the capsule should spring a leak or its air conditioning systems be damaged by the impact, Shepard can escape either through the side hatch or through the upper neck of the bobbing capsule, pushing ahead of him a small inflatable rubber raft.

READY FOR SPACE FLIGHT—Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., slated to pilot the Mercury capsule for the United States' first attempt to send a man into space, is shown as he sat for a suit fitting.

Space Suit Is High Style But Not for Moon Work

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —When astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., dressed in his glittering pressure suit, climbs stiffly into the Mercury capsule for this country's first attempt at manned space flight, he will look like a fiction writer's dream of a man from another planet.

The 20-pound suit is a marvel of engineering, but within a few years it will be as outmoded as a model-T Ford.

"The suit is adequate for what we want to do," said Lt. Cmdr. Walter Schirra, one of the seven astronauts.

Schirra, who helped develop the pressure suit during the long months of training for the astronauts, says, "It's not designed to walk around the moon or change vehicles in space or put patches on rocket ships. The requirements of the Mercury capsule are such that we are in a contour couch or use part of the couch to protect us."

The original model was designed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's space task group. However, during the months of testing the suit by the astronauts, many new suggestions, changes and ideas evolved.

Consequently, the B. F. Goodrich Co. manufactured a new model with 120 modifications.

A main criticism of the suit was that when it was at its full pressure of about 5 to 5½ pounds per square inch, it provided little maneuverability.

With the addition of five "ribs" — at the shoulders, elbows and knees — the astronaut now can bend to almost 90 degrees.

The fiberglass helmet, with its broad face mask, weighs 4½ pounds. It will be closed during the launching and re-entry.

Since the capsule has a full oxygen system and is fully pressurized, the pressure suit itself is a safety backup system. The suit always contains just under a pound of pressure because of the oxygen-cooling and respiratory system.

Should the capsule decompress, the astronaut has two gauges to warn him. One is on the cabin instrument panel, the other a small pressure gauge on the forearm of the suit.

A loss of too much pressure, and the suit automatically is pressurized. The astronaut also can trigger the suit system by touching a button on one side of his helmet.

The hands of the suit are curved with ribbed material, with the exception of the left middle finger. Under pressurization, this finger remains straight so that the astronaut can push instrument buttons.

The medical telemetering system is a round cannon-plug connection with 20 possible inputs situated on the right thigh. Temperature, respiration and electrocardiograms will be transmitted here.

The astronaut will receive oxygen through a cord at the waist. One hundred per cent oxygen flows throughout the suit to cool it, then circulates in the helmet. Carbon dioxide is purged from the suit through a helmet connection.

And while he won't be using it on the first trip, the astronaut will have available 3,000 calories of nonresidue food and six pounds of water, contained in two flat bottles with extendable tubes.

Board Secretary Is Quick With Smile and Answer

When school directors of Montgomery county get together in Norristown next week to talk over the problems of their multi-million dollar business they'll be led by a Lower Pottsgrove man who is one of the county's busiest in the field of education.

Forrest Ginder, secretary of the Pottsgrove jointure, also is president of the county board of education.

In the latter capacity he will lead discussion and business conducted among the hundreds of directors that will attend the semiannual conference Wednesday at Rittenhouse Junior High school.

Ginder's quick smile and wisdom of school affairs have been important elements in many Pottsgrove jointure meetings that have sometimes needed a wise argument courteously presented.

For the Lower Pottsgrove board he is a well of first hand information on the ins and outs of the jointure's operations, information gleaned from his work as secretary of the jointure. He has been a Lower Pottsgrove director for 10 years and has four years remaining on his current term.

GINDER'S APPLICATION to school affairs led to his election as county board president last December. He took office in January for a one year term.

The director is employed full-time as an accountant at Firestone. He is married to the former Ann Kienle. They are the parents of four children.

He is Sunday school superintendent at the New Hanover Lutheran church and a member of the church council.

In presiding over the county conference, Ginder will be closely involved with discussion on legislation that affects school operation.

FORREST GINDER

A report on findings of the Governor's Committee on Education will be presented at the meeting by Dr. Robert A. Christie, executive director of the committee.

LAVISH SCHOOL IS BULGING

90 pupils graduate. In September 180 new pupils will enter.

"That means 90 more pupils next year than we have this year," Michener said. "It also means that the school will have 96 more pupils than it should have."

THE SCHOOL was built with a rated capacity of 850. That means the maximum number of pupils who can be effectively taught is 850—not 856 as there are this year or 946 as there will be next year or the 1200 Michener expects by 1966.

It also means new rooms are going to be needed.

The joint school board recognized the problem several months ago when it applied to the State Department of Public Instruction for a building number. When the number comes up — most likely in two or three years—the State will reimburse the jointure for the expense of the planned addition.

But before it can go ahead on the actual planning of a new addition, the jointure has to complete the $400,000 building program it is now involved in.

Already completed is a $90,000 renovation of the former West Pottsgrove High school into a new elementary school. In the final stages of planning is a $75,000 all-purpose room for the Lower Pottsgrove Elementary school and a $322,000 elementary school to be constructed immediately north of the high school on Buchert road.

ALL THREE projects will be financed through a $400,000 bond issue. The junior-senior high school was financed through a $2.2 million bond issue. The addition will likely be financed the same way.

Michener is worried about the "normal influx" of pupils now, but admits that an even greater problem will occur if any of the three townships install sewage facilities within the next few years.

"Then you'll see a real building boom," he explains. "Now most of the building is being held off to see what develops so the increase in school population is fairly predictable."

"But if the building boom develops then the jointure is going to be in a real serious problem when it comes to classroom space," he added.

MICHENER HAS no way of predicting whether the boom will develop. But he can be sure about the normal influx of pupils. To plan for them he will run a census between now and the end of the school year. From this he will be able to say whether there are going to be 1000 pupils entering in Sept., 1962 or 1100 a year later.

"The ones who are in the elementary schools now we can figure on. It's the ones who may move into the township if the building boom develops that we have no way of figuring," he explained.

"We have to start planning now," Michener concluded. "By the time we get around to building we're going to have a real need for the space."

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Today

THIS WILL be an excellent time in which to participate in social functions and entertainments held for the benefit of community and welfare projects; also for cementing old friendships, encouraging new ones. Judgment will be good now, so you should be able to plan long-range programs cleverly.

For The Birthday

If today is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the year ahead will comprise an excellent period in which to put your skills and talents to better use and, if possible, to find a wider scope for your endeavors. Be alert in displaying your originality and ingenuity in both job and financial matters—especially in June, July and October—since such efforts should produce fine results.

Despite indications of progress in financial matters, we would suggest, however, that you follow a conservative path and avoid extravagance this year — particularly in August and November—since unnecessary expenditures or speculation could offset gains. The stars are definitely averse to all risk-taking.

Be wary in personal relationships during June and September, when there will be tendencies toward emotionalism which could cause conflict. Otherwise, your domestic and social concerns should run smoothly.

Travel will be governed by excellent aspects in late July and late August and December should be an all-around good month.

A child born on this day will be ambitious and talented, but may incline to over-enthusiasm at times.

League Seeks Planning Board

The Union Township Taxpayers league Thursday night appointed a committee to study the possibility of a planning commission for the industry-starved township.

A league spokesman said a strong recommendation to the board of supervisors that a planning commission be appointed "is expected as a natural result of the committee."

The move followed an address by Richard Bauer, executive director of the Berks county Planning commission, and a discussion session. Bauer urged immediate steps to form a planning commission and to establish zoning in the eastern Berks township.

Vincent McMullen, founder of the strong community group, was honored by the gathering and presented a gold tie clasp as outgoing president. The league was formed in August 1959.

The well-attended meeting was held in the Kulptown community building.

COMING DOWN—The owner of the tool shed, described as a "perfect tinder box," voluntarily agreed to demolish it Wednesday as the borough crackdown on fire hazards continued. The building, piled high with wood and rubbish, is owned by John Kulp, of 473 Spruce street. He decided to demolish it after reading of the crackdown in The Mercury. "No use waiting until they get there," he told Building Inspector Lewis J. Kirby, shown inspecting the building.

sewer project "is about ready to start."

He also explained the township taxing situation — eight mills on real estate, $5 head tax and nine cents per front foot for street lighting — and the probable cost to Orchard Hills under the proposed township sewer system.

The development's share, he said, would be one-seventh of the total cost, estimated at $850,000 to $900,000. The individual cost per home would be $7 a front foot and $54 to $57 a year rental. No connection charge was set, Werstler said.

He was unable to say whether the cost would be borne by the individual homeowners or whether the development corporation would bear the entire "lump sum" cost.

APPEARING AS a witness for the borough for the second time to outline the remaining building sites in the borough was Read. At the April 6 hearing he spoke for four hours, explaining the basic reason for seeking the annexation was "to broaden the economic base of the borough."

Thursday he explained that there are only 25 possible building sites remaining in the borough "and all are of single home size. There isn't a single lot large enough for a development."

The three member commission is expected to make its recommendation to the court in the next two to four weeks. The three members are Ralph W. D. Levan, a Reading attorney; S. Luther Plank, a Reading realtor; and William C. Fry Jr., former Berks county engineer.

Tunisia President Sees End to Algiers Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, after conferring with President Kennedy, predicted Thursday that negotiations between France and the Algerian provisional government will begin May 11 in Evian-les-Bains, on the French side of Lake Geneva.

Bourguiba reportedly told Kennedy that he was hopeful the negotiations would lead to a solution of the long war in Algeria.

The Tunisian leader, 57, obviously in a happy mood after his warm welcome in Washington, talked with Kennedy for almost two hours at the White House, the first of two scheduled meetings. The two meet again Friday afternoon.

In a news conference, Bourguiba said that Kennedy had "great understanding and sympathy" for the problems of Algeria and the rest of Africa.

A brief White House communique said the two presidents "discussed the general situation in North Africa and its effect on prospects of peace in that area."

Kennedy and his guest also expressed "mutual concern for a favorable solution to the Algerian problem," the White House statement added.

Kennedy welcomed Bourguiba with a few words spoken in French. The Tunisian said he was touched and thanked the President for his effort.

Before his talk with Kennedy, Bourguiba addressed a joint session of Congress in French, praising the administration for returning to the traditional U.S. policy of anticolonialism and self-determination.

In his speech, Bourguiba said Tunisia has been "proud to extend to our Algerian brothers all the facilities of our territory to carry on their legitimate struggle."

A Pottstown attorney refuted this, however, by stating one of the principles of American life was that the Communist was to have as much freedom of expression as the non-Communist.

Many members disagreed with the stand taken by the National Council of Churches on the movie.

The National Council of Churches criticized the "misleading" editing and that the film "implied Communists were at the hearing just to lead the riots, when they were in fact subpoenaed to the hearing."

IN OTHER action, after discussion on the controversial film quieted, a nomination of officers took place. Those nominated were: Emidio J. Mattei, president; Richard J. Albright, first vice president; Stanley G. Freese, Paul H. Raetz, and Junius B. Sessoms, second vice president; Joseph Hutt, secretary; James Kohn, treasurer; Kenneth Bohner, John E. Deloplaine, Irvin C. Hutt, Dr. Louis A. Iezzi, Charles E. Frederick, Thomas A. Keene, Grier Schwoyer, and John L. McGowan, board of governors.

The election will be at the May 18 meeting.

Catholics Increase In United States

NEW YORK (AP)—The official National Roman Catholic Directory for 1961 Thursday showed a 47.04 per cent increase during the last decade in the number of enrolled Catholics in the United States.

The publication, 13th enlarged edition to be issued, reflected a total Catholic population of 42,104,900—an increase of 13,470,022 over the 28,634,878 of 1951 and a boost of 1,233,589 over last year.

State Plans Study Of Virus Hepatitis

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health department Thursday said it will make an epidemiological study of infectious (virus) hepatitis in Pennsylvania.

The department said the disease, known as yellow jaundice, has shown a sharp rise in Pennsylvania as well as the rest of the nation. For the first 15 weeks of this year, 1361 cases were reported in the State compared to 470 cases for the same period last year.

Secretary Charles L. Wilbar said the department's study will determine whether any additional recommendations can be made which would help in preventing the illness.

He said a preliminary survey of adult cases of hepatitis in Pennsylvania by the U. S. Public Health service indicated there was no common source of the infection in Central Pennsylvania.

Church Will Replace Farmer's Horses

NEW WILMINGTON (AP) — An Amish farmer's church is going to replace three horses the government took from him for non-payment of Social Security taxes.

Valentine Y. Byler of New Wilmington RD 1 said Thursday he was informed of the benevolence by the bishop of his church in this Lawrence county area.

Byler refused to pay the taxes because of religious convictions.

Sinking of Cruise Ship Is Called Freak Accident

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — "Sure I'd do it again," said one young crewman Thursday after surviving the sinking of the Albatross, a seagoing schoolroom for wealthy teen-agers until it sank in the Gulf of Mexico, with the loss of six lives.

Charles Sahler, 18, of Pittsford, N.Y., summed up the feeling for most of the 13 survivors from the ill-fated cruise which started last September.

The 117-foot student cruise ship capsized and sank during a squall west of Key West Tuesday.

"She went down like a rock," said the skipper of the square-rigged brigantine, Dr. Christopher B. Sheldon, during an exclusive interview with The Associated Press.

Sheldon and his wife operated the ship as a floating classroom for youngsters of prominent families. Sheldon's wife was one of those lost.

Coast Guard Cmdr. W. T. Corfield, officer in charge of marine inspection and captain of the port, questioned the survivors aboard the rescue vessel and later ruled the sinking accidental.

Corfield said Sheldon was blameless for what he termed "a freak accident."

"Water poured in through the hatches and there was very little chance for those below deck to get out," Sheldon said of the sinking while sitting in a cabin aboard the Gran Rio, a freighter which picked up survivors and brought them to Tampa.

"The crew was very orderly about getting off the ship," he added. "This was the principal reason so many of us got off. The Albatross was gone in 30 seconds after it toppled on its side."

Sahler said a "white squall" hit the steel-hulled craft and sent it to the bottom.

"It's the first time I ever saw a white squall," he said. "I never want to see another again."

Dictionaries describe a white squall as a small whirlwind occurring in the tropics. The wind comes without warning and with no accompanying heavy concentration of clouds.

"We thought she would right herself," said David Johnstone, 17, of Stonington, Conn. "When she went over, we thought she would come back up — but she didn't."

John Goodlett, 18, of Arlington, Va., was the only person on deck to die when the vessel capsized. The others were trapped below deck.

"John was trying to get a lifeboat free," said Philip Leboutillier, 17, son of a deputy assistant secretary of defense in the Eisenhower administration. "We believe he was pulled under by the sail."

Leboutillier, from Perrysburg, Ohio, agreed with Sahler that Goodlett was the best swimmer in the student crew.

In addition to Goodlett and Mrs. Sheldon, the sinking claimed the lives of Robert Wetherill IV, 17, of Media, Pa., a member of a prominent Philadelphia family; Chris Coristine, 18, of Montreal, Canada; Rick Marsellus, 16, of Newport Beach, Calif.; and George Ptactnik, 30, cook on the cruise and a former college teacher from San Diego, Calif.

Tim Barrows, 16, of Pine Lake, N. J., a relative of the ship's operators, credited his belief that the ship was sinking with saving his life. "I was below deck and dove for the door, then pushed up the ladder against the water," he said.

"Mike—William Schail—got behind me and when he got out the water was rushing in very fast."

Schail, also 16 and from Bronxville, N. Y., and Barrows are experienced sailors. Schail is a member of the Horseshoe Harbor Yacht Club of Larchmond, N. Y. Barrows sailed with the Albatross on an earlier cruise.

"You could say we had great good luck on one hand and great bad luck on the other," Barrows said. "If the lifeboats hadn't gotten free, we probably wouldn't be here today."

The survivors managed to get the water out of two swamped lifeboats and spent the night in them before the Gran Rio took them aboard.

"I saw two boats," Capt. Frans Vegter, of Surinam, said. "I thought they were fishermen; then I thought, Cuban refugees. And when we got closer I realized they were in trouble."

William Bunting of Cambridge, Mass., 16, son of the president of Radcliffe College, was the only survivor injured. He received a gash and bump on the head when he crashed through a door to get topside.

Others docking at Tampa to meet relatives or make plans to return home included Charles Gieg, 17, Wilson, Conn.; Robert Brett Jr., 16, Concord, Mass.; Tom Laile, 16, Pontiac, Mich.; Richard Strayer, 15, Carlisle, Pa. and John Perry, Manchester, Conn., and Richard Langford, 35, Deland, Fla., instructors.

Inside You And Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Don't Wear Out Your Skin

IS YOUR sickbed making you sicker? It can! And all because your skin resembles a magic carpet!

Like any rug, your skin wears thin when the same bony points continuously concentrate your weight. Eventually, this pressure eats through skin, other tissue and even bone. These bed sores heal slowly because their blood supply is cut off, too.

Dr. Fern

Like a cheap carpet, malnourished skin lacks the firm fibers needed to withstand normal wear and tear. Bedclothes full of folds and wrinkles cut through healthy skin like sharp-edged razor blades. And drenched skin can easily be ground to shreds like any wet rug.

How It Progresses

At first the skin reddens. Then, as the red shades into dusky blue, the area hardens. Now nothing can stop the bed sores. Finally the skin cracks open.

As germs feed on this dead tissue, infection begins to ooze from the raw area.

Antibiotic germ-killers can help clear the infection, while special ointments and injections dissolve away dead tissue and starve the germs. The surgeon may prefer to cut away this debris.

Most important, you have to shift the weight to some other spot. You can buy all sorts of pressure-relieving gadgets — motorized mattresses, alternating pressure pads, small inner tubes and rubber doughnuts — to hold the sore off the bed.

To Relieve Pressure

A few fluffed-up pillows and strips of foam rubber (cloth-covered) make ideal pressure-relievers. So do rolled-up blankets under knees and ankles.

Helpful Aids

Nourishing foods and alcohol rubs can toughen that thin skin, while baby powder prevents unnecessary friction.

You can prevent bed sores—but even a magic carpet won't last unless you give it proper care!

Tragic Events In Jewish Ghettos Are Revealed at Eichmann Trial

JERUSALEM (AP) — Battle-scarred veterans of desperate Jewish underground struggles in the ghettos of Lithuania and Poland confronted Adolf Eichmann from the witness stand Thursday.

Eyewitness testimony from some of the leaders who matched home-made bombs against Nazi tanks and divebombers was a dramatic highpoint of the day's session.

Dr. Aaron Peretz, an Israeli physician who worked in the Jewish hospital at Kovno, Lithuania, said that in 1942 a Nazi order forbade Jewish women from becoming pregnant and having children.

He performed many operations to prevent births, he said, but "there were women who were real heroes. If they gave birth the children were destroyed and the mothers died as well."

Nevertheless, he said, many women refused to have their pregnancy stopped.

Another witness, Meir Dvorski, a physician in the ghetto at Vilna, Lithuania, told the court of a bureaucracy of death in the ghettos.

"Lebensscheine," or life certificates, were issued to those picked for respite from the gas chambers and firing squads, but the Jews had to decide themselves who would be spared.

"If a man had a wife, two children and a mother, he had to choose whom to register because only four persons could be entered on the life certificate," he said.

Dvorski said he and his wife had no children, but he registered his sister and an orphan boy as his children.

Prosecutor Gideon Hausner allowed him to tell his story almost chronologically.

Presiding Judge Moshe Landau warned Hausner that much of the evidence given in this way is irrelevant to the basic charge that Eichmann is guilty of crimes against the Jewish people.

Hausner explained that testimony, such as was heard Thursday, details the cruelty the prosecution charges Eichmann initiated and directed.

Yet only one witness he summoned Thursday mentioned Eichmann. He was Abba Kovner, underground fighter in Vilna for four years and now an Israeli writer.

"His name was Anton Schmidt" Kovner testified. "I met him secretly one night in January, 1942, to ask who was behind the persecution of local Jews—was it a local Gestapo commander?

"We had a few drinks. Schmidt was nervous. He said to me: 'These local commanders have no say in the matter. There is one dog called Eichmann and he is organizing everything.'"

Kovner described at length the underground fight against the Nazis in Vilna and told of one resistance leader, Izhak Wittenberg who chose Gestapo torture rather than endanger the ghetto community.

"The Germans set a deadline and said if Wittenberg was not turned over to them our ghetto would be razed. We had Wittenberg with us. He told us to mobilize the underground organization," Kovner said.

But other Jews in the ghetto heard of the ultimatum and attacked the underground fighters.

"The entire ghetto besieged us" Kovner said. "They felt the community could not be endangered for one man. Wittenberg went out in the street, in front of the Jews who were against us. He gave himself up. He was tortured and killed."

Avraham Karasik told of a Jewish uprising against the Nazis in Bialystok, Poland.

"We battled tanks and even dive bombers with revolvers, hand grenades and home-made bombs," Karasik said.

When the Germans subdued the uprising "1,000 corpses littered the streets of the ghetto," he testified.

As retaliation the Germans seized 1,200 Jewish children, he asserted, and "none of them was ever seen again."

MAN IS JAILED

Truman Leary, West High street, was sentenced to 30 days in county prison Thursday by Justice of the Peace Merritt S. Wien. Leary was unable to pay a $10 fine and costs levied on a drunk and disorderly charge. Leary was arrested by Pottstown Policemen Joseph Thees and John Moore.

Businessman Released from China Dies of Cancer

MANILA (AP) — Cancer has claimed Robert Ezra McCann, 60, American businessman released less than a month ago after spending 10 years in a Chinese Communist prison on spy charges.

McCann rallied from a semi-coma before he died Thursday and told his wife and son: "I never thought I would see my family again."

At his bedside at Clark Air Force Base Hospital were his wife, Flora McCann of Pasadena, Calif., and a son, Robert Elsworth McCann, of Los Altos Hill, Calif.

A daughter, Barbara McCann Curtis of Pasadena; and a brother, U.S. Air Force Col. John E. McCann of Falls Church, Va., visited the dying McCann here and then returned to the United States.

His wife went to Tientsin where her husband, already beyond hope, was under treatment. Together, they crossed the Red Chinese border into Hong Kong April 6. McCann was flown to Manila, but was too weak to continue the trip to the United States.

Doctors said it was almost miraculous McCann had lived so long. They said his lung cancer had spread to his brain and parts of his body.

McCann, born in China of missionary parents, had spent much of his life in the Orient. He was importing automobile parts and operating an automobile assembly plant when the Japanese interned him in World War II. He was repatriated to the United States and returned to China after the war.

The Chinese Communists imprisoned him in 1951. His 15-year sentence was shortened because of his illness.

WEST VINCENT SCHOOL BOARD OKAYS BUDGET

New Tax Schedule Also Gets Approval

The West Vincent township school board approved unanimously Wednesday night a 50 mill occupation tax in a special budgetary meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the township school building.

Also approved was reduction of the township's real estate millage from 45 to 27 mills. A budget of $248,611 was passed for the year beginning July 1.

Board president Russell T. Latshaw said the new tax schedule would effect 1300 residents, and net a total $112,435. The balance will be made up by State appropriations.

Scheduled for reenactment in the coming fiscal year, Latshaw said, were the current $5 per capita tax and $10 personal tax.

HE SAID the lower real estate millage and introduction of an occupation tax were encouraged by a general increase of assessments the past year throughout Chester county.

The new budget, highest in West Vincent history, was an increase of $20,982 over the past year's.

In other business, Robert H. Potts Jr., Spring City RD 1, was reelected board secretary for a four year term. He was secretary the past 18 months since the resignation of Oliver W. Mosteller.

Paul K. Detweiler, Parker Ford, was elected to a one year's treasurer's term. He was treasurer the past six years, and served on the board since 1953.

Drivers Give Different Views

Pottstown Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy received conflicting stories Thursday morning from two drivers involved in an accident at Keim street and Center avenue.

Marguerite Wolf, 487 Manatawny street, said she was following a truck driven by Michael Harnago, of The Hill school, south on Keim street when the turn signals on the truck indicated a right turn. She said she started to pass the truck on the left side when the signals changed to a left turn, the truck veered and collided with the right rear of her car.

9 From Area Become Citizens

Nine residents of Pottstown and the area were among 75 persons granted citizenship in the first 1961 session of Naturalization court at Norristown Thursday.

President Judge Alfred Taxis, of the Orphans Court, delivered the main address, likening naturalization to adoption—the new citizens are adopting this nation just as the nation adopts them, with the attendant inheritance of America's heritage and the responsibilities of citizens.

In keeping with the tradition of honoring a community at each naturalization session, Royersford received special recognition. The borough's leading citizens were in attendance, and sepcial music was offered by the A Capella choir of Spring-Ford High school, under the direction of Alice Schimpf.

Inducted from Pottstown and the area were: Ilse I. and Wilhelm Fuhrmann, Maple Gardens; Jutta and Peter Giessmann, 2237 Horseshoe drive; Dorothy Alice Sheetz, Zieglersville; Hans and Emmy Block, Perkiomenville; Oleksandra Nakoneczny, Pennsburg RD 1; and Martha Wedemeyer, Royersford RD 1.

Among those making remarks was Pottstown Attorney C. Edmund Wells, president of the Montgomery county Bar association, who pointed out that as citizens, the new Americans "wil never be free—free of the duty each citizen owes to support, cherish, guard and protect our principles . . ."

Elkins Wetherill, president of the county commissioners, urged each of the new citizens to immediately register in the political party of their choice and to take an active part in politics.

Firemen Grant 2 Men Life Memberships

Collegeville fire company voted Thursday night to give life membership to C. Hansell French and Dr. Herbert Barron.

All life members of the company will be invited to the June meeting.

Proposed new members, who will be voted on next month, are George Hoovan, Earl W. Brunner, Paul C. Bessmer and Curt H. Eckard.

Boyertown RD Woman Fractures Ankle

A 52 year old Boyertown RD 1 woman suffered a possible fracture of the left ankle when she slipped on wet leaves in her backyard about 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Treated at Pottstown hospital and released after her ankle was placed in a cast was Mrs. Viola Reichert. She was asked to return to the hospital today for X-rays.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Clean Up Crews Net 105 Tons

career Thursday.

"I got a call to pick up a few things at a house on Lincoln avenue. The 'few things' actually filled a six ton truck," he remarked.

Many calls received on the borough switchboard (FA 6-3100) and the highway department line (FA 3-7936), Reider said, were to thank borough crews for the job they've done.

"One woman on North Warren street, who just moved to town, said she never saw a more efficient or worthwhile effort," he recounted.

Both Reider and Doyle hoped they could finish the drive today, but expected the last minute flood of calls would keep them busy through most of Saturday.

Millionaires Dine With J. Paul Getty

LONDON (AP) — A bunch of British millionaires went out to lunch Thursday in honor of an American billionaire — J. Paul Getty, 67.

The luncheon in the Dorchester Hotel was held to celebrate publication of Ralph Hewins' biography of the oil magnate.

Getty, in a rare public speech, told his guests he knows no formula for getting rich.

He wound up his talk by saying he has one belief that has never changed in all his years in business:

"If you can trust a man, a contract is a waste of paper.

Civilian Employes Strike At U.S. Bases

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Moroccan civilian employes on four U.S. air bases struck Thursday for higher pay and for increased separation allowances when the bases are closed by the end of 1963.

The strike, due to end Friday, affects 4,500 workers at Kenitra, Nouasseur, Sidi Slimane and Ben Guerir bases.

The Moroccan union demands 20 per cent pay hikes for all civilian employes, whose annual payroll now totals $6 million.

U.S. authorities say they have insufficient funds to meet the union demands.

Four Americans Believed Killed In Cuban Invasion Plane Crash

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Four Americans flying for anti-Castro forces apparently were killed during the ill-fated Cuban invasion when their cargo plane crashed in the Caribbean.

A spokesman for a Miami, Fla., firm that put the Cuban rebels in touch with the fliers said the four had been missing since "about April 19 and are presumed to have perished."

Alex E. Carlson, an attorney from Miami Springs, Fla., said he represented Double Check Corp., a firm that acted as broker in locating fliers for the anti-Castro Cubans.

He made his statements to newsmen after conferring with the families of the missing men, all residents of Birmingham.

Carlson said he did not know whether the plane, a C46 carrying an undisclosed cargo, was shot down.

"During this flight they were to maintain radio silence except in case of emergency," Carlson said. "They reported that one of their two engines had gone out and they were losing altitude."

Nothing more was heard, he said, but a later search turned up remnants of the plane's wreckage. No bodies were found.

Carlson identified the men as Riley W. Shamburger, 36, the pilot; Thomas Willard Ray, copilot; Leo F. Baker, 35, engineer, and Wade Carroll Gray, 33, radioman.

"These men know what they were getting into," Carlson said. "It was a calculated risk — if they came back they had a nice nest egg."

He said the Americans were to be paid a monthly salary for flying multiengine planes, but he didn't know how much.

Their families will receive "substantial benefits as part of the contract," he said.

The fatal flight started "presumably somewhere in Central America," Carlson said. He didn't know the destination.

BRITISH ROBIN

The British robin has olive-brown back feathers and a bright orange forehead, throat and breast. Large, dark brown eyes give the robin an alert appearance and enable it to sight tiny insects at long distances.

Student Is Dragged From Car By Gang

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A gang of young hoodlums dragged a Slippery Rock State college student from his auto Thursday, then beat and stabbed him.

Dale Miller, 19, of McDonald, was detained at Mercy hospital with a stab wound of the shoulder and a cut over his eye. He was at a loss to explain the incident.

Police said Miller was stabbed a short time after a rock 'n' roll show ended at the Syria Mosque. Stones were hurled at the Mosque windows.

Fifteen persons were arrested by police on disorderly conduct charge. There were no arrests in the beating and stabbing of Miller.

18 TEACHERS TO BE HIRED FOR SCHOOL

HIRING OF the two men will be part of an addition of 23 new professional positions to the school district staff, an increase required largely by the opening of the second (Central) Junior High school.

The principal item of increase is the hiring of 18 additional teachers for Junior High. A second Junior High principal, S. Leonard Miller, was hired earlier this year and Brown will be his assistant in running Central High. A nurse also must be hired for the Central building.

A third biology teacher and a second physical education teacher have been hired for the Senior High school. Anthony DaDamio, Birdsboro, a graduate of Notre Dame university, will join Clarence Yocom and Mrs. Elizabeth Albert in the biology department. Georgette Simmons, a Senior at Lock Haven State college, will share physical education assignments with Mrs. Theresa Miller.

Hiring of the 18 additional teachers accounts for the greatest share of a proposed increase of $104,500 in pay for teachers over the current school year, said Linford F. Moyer, district secretary and business manager.

TEACHERS' SALARIES form approximately 53 percent of the entire proposed expense of the next school year, an increase of 9 percent over the current year. The pay total is projected at $1,234,500 for next year, compared to $1,130,000 for the current year. The figures include miscellaneous payments for sick leave, coaches' salaries, and so on.

All expenses of instruction, including all professional employe salaries and other items, are figured at $1,450,000, or 62 percent of the total budget. In the current year all expenses of instruction make up 50 percent of expenditures.

Kingsley has built up a qualification for the job of psychologist with study at six colleges and universities, Fosnocht indicated.

After graduating from Cambridge Springs High school in 1925, he earned a bachelor of science degree at Grove City college, in Western Pennsylvania, and a master of education degree at Pennsylvania State university.

HE ALSO has taken work in guidance and psychology at the University of Pittsburgh, Allegheny college in Meadville, Edinboro college and Temple university.

Kingsley taught science and social studies from 1929 to 1934 at Pleasantville High school before entering the counseling field. He was guidance counselor for 23 years at Titusville Area High school before assuming a similar position at the local Senior High school in 1957.

The psychologist position was opened last Summer when Lewis Maraffie resigned to take the position of assistant supervising principal in the Bellefonte school system. In the current school year Kingsley assumed duties of psychological testing at the Senior High school, normally a responsibility of the psychologist.

As school district psychologist he would have responsibility for administering all mental ability, achievement and aptitude tests in the school system. The position also entails directing the school district's special education program for the retarded and counseling parents, teachers and pupils in a great variety of problems and situations.

THE 53 year old educator is married and is the father of a son, Thomas, a graduate of The Hill school two years ago and now a student at Cornell university.

In proposing Brown as vice principal, Fosnocht indicated, the board will consider a man making a career of education.

Brown has been Senior High varsity basketball coach since he came to Pottstown in 1954 and probably will continue as a coach if he is hired as vice principal, Fosnocht indicated.

BROWN GRADUATED from Moravian college, Bethlehem, in 1940 with a bachelor of science degree and received a master of arts degree from Lehigh university in 1949. He had additional study at Kutztown State college and at East Stroudsburg State college in driver education and physical education.

He taught mathematics and physical education at Hellertown from 1941 to 1952 and at Easton from 1952 to 1954. He also coached at both schools.

The budgeted total for teacher pay anticipates the following:

A decrease of $1000 in the total paid elementary teachers, to $558,600. The decrease is due to retirement of several older (and higher paid) teachers and their replacement by younger (lower paid) teachers.

An increase of $88,000 in total pay for Junior High teachers, to $369,500. This includes the hiring of 18 additional teachers required by the opening of Central Junior High school.

An increase of $9000 in total pay for Senior High teachers, to $267,000. The increase is due largely to the addition of biology and physical education instructors.

Expenses of instruction also includes $84,000 for principals' salaries, $49,000 for instructional supplies, $25,000 for supervisors' salaries, $21,500 for textbooks, and $7000 for library books.

The nearly one and a quarter million dollars for teachers' salaries includes $9400 for coaching, $4500 for conducting extra-curricular activities, $4000 for homebound instruction, and $2000 for adult evening classes.

The $21,500 for textbooks is $500 below the amount spent in the current year. It includes $12,000 for elementary schools, $4500 for Junior High and $5000 for Senior High.

The $49,000 for instructional supplies includes the following: $12,500 for general supplies, $11,700 for the athletic program, $4100 for the art program, $2600 for the music program, and $2700 for shops.

Nitroglycerin Scare Empties School

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ninety children marched out of the Cary school Thursday when a pupil found a bottle labeled nitroglycerin.

The youngsters got the afternoon off while Army ordnance men removed the half-gallon bottle and took it away to determine its true contents.

A hand-lettered label on the outside said, "Nitro-glycen (explosive—do not touch)."

The residents of 20 homes near the school also were told to evacuate because of the possible danger of an explosion.

Hungarian Workers Accused of Stealing

Budapest, Hungary (AP)—Red Hungary's workers have been told they should be more alert to fellow workers who weaken the economy by stealing from factories and should report them to officials. The newspaper Magyar Ifjusag said there has been no end to losses of money from factory thefts and office embezzlement.

MORE LOCAL DOCTORS IN SPECIAL FIELDS

YET POTTSTOWN is blessed. It has 27 GPs to care for a population of 26,066 (1960 census) persons, or one for each 1000 persons. Compare this with the fact that in the average U.S. community there are nearly three times as many individuals per general practitioner, and you can see where the Pottstown situation is extremely encouraging.

Meanwhile, what is happening with the individual specialties? Here are the significant national trends—to be followed by Pottstown's statistics showing changes in the last 12 years:

Internal medicine still holds its place as the specialty with the largest number of practitioners. General surgery is second, but the slowest growing. "General internists" are third, growing faster than any subspeciality except cardiology.

Fastest-growing were neurology, psychiatry, anesthesiology, nuerological surgery and pathology, in that order. The greatest decline can be seen in polyspecialism (physicians with more than one speciality). More doctors than ever are certified in their specialty—a jump from 53 to 70 percent of all specialists.

AS FOR Pottstown, the following specialties were practiced here 12 years ago: ophthalmology and eye surgery - 4, obstetrics and gynecology - 3, surgery - 2, pediatrics - 2, and cardiology - 1.

Today, there are six specialists in surgery, four in obstetrics and gynecology, three in ophthalmology and eye ailments, two cardiologists, pathologists and pediatric specialists, and specialists in each of the following fields: urology, anesthesiology, radiology, dermatology and internal medicine.

These figures are not offical, because the nature of the community dictates that "specialists" often be well-qualified to serve as general practitioners, and do so.

In addition to the categories named, the staffs of the Pottstown and Memorial hospitals include consulting specialists and physicians on call from larger nearby hospitals in practically every speciality.

Thus, while the national report gave rise to much concern, Pottstown, in sharp comparison, can rest easily in the knowledge that the medical service here is complete, diversified and adequate, according to The Mercury's survey.

CHILD HURT

Guido Ecker, five year old son of Mrs. Savoia Ecker, 462 West Walnut street, was examined and discharged at Pottstown hospital Thursday afternoon, after he fell and struck his head while at play.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love & Marriage

Lonely, Middleaged Widow Wants Help

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

Eight months ago my husband was killed in an automobile accident and as we never had children I couldn't stand living all by myself in the big house that was left me.

I'm 43 years old and while I have many friends, practically all of them are married and it makes a difference when one has no husband to go places with.

Because I was so lonely, I decided to go and live with my 84-year-old father who was also living alone except for a housekeeper in the old family home.

Perhaps I'm getting very hard to please, I don't know, but I don't seem to be any happier or less lonely here than I was before.

In fact, it seems as though I had only added problems to my life, because my father's housekeeper resents my being here and I can't make any suggestions about how anything should be done or she gets mad and thinks I'm just butting in where I don't belong, since she's had the say about running the place ever since my mother died eight years ago.

I just don't know what my next move should be, so I'm hoping you'll be able to tell me.

MRS. PETER W.

Dear Mrs. Peter W.

Since your father has apparently been getting along quite contentedly without you for a number of years, and since his housekeeper resents your living in his home, why should you continue living there when you feel unhappy and unnecessary, if not actually unwanted, and find your problems of loneliness just as bad as before?

I think it would go far toward solving this problem if you'd take yourself out of your father's home and set up a place of your own in an apartment that would be not too big, but yet big enough to enable you to entertain friends.

Of course it's hard not to be one of a couple when most of your friends are married, and I'm sure there are many times when you feel as though you might, perhaps, be the "extra one" at a gathering and so a little out of place.

But the way toward a possible happy solution is to keep on going places and seeing just as many people as you can, because that's the way both single women and single men usually come into contact with other single people.

Then, in addition to taking part in all the social activities now open to you, find some interesting club groups to join, preferably, of course, those whose membership comprises both sexes.

But don't turn an interesting one down just because it may be an all-woman membership. For, as I often tell people in your situation, women have brothers, cousins and brothers-in-law, and their husbands have the same, plus single male acquaintances, so that associating with other women is another good way to meet single men.

I shouldn't need to tell you that you're plenty young enough to have a most interesting and enjoyable life still ahead of you and that all you need to start creating and developing it is to make up your mind to begin right now.

VFW Association Picks Wien for Presidency

Merritt S. Wien, commander of Pottstown VFW Post 780 Thursday night was elected president of the post's home association board of directors.

With 125 members of the organization voting at 530 High street, the following men were elected to the board:

Three year term: Wien, Paul Stufflet and Charles Holliday; two year term: Hubert Rutter, Charles Whisler, Peter Cromin and Roland Steiner.

In the reorganization meeting which followed, the board elected Wien to succeed Howard A. Kalis Jr. The other officers named were: Whisler, vice president; Rutter, financial secretary; and Stufflet, treasurer.

Schoolmen Put Off Budget Discussion

The new budget for the Fagleysville school district was shelved temporarily by the school board at its regular meeting on Thursday night.

The board set aside budget discussions until next week because of budget conferences being held at the same time in the school by the Upper Frederick School board.

In other action, however, the board paid bills amounting to $2678.20 and accepted receipts of $3284.35.

MORA Accepts New Member, 91

Charles Christman, 91, of 873 South street, was accepted Thursday afternoon into the membership of the MORA club at its meeting in the YMCA.

Christman, who is the 154th member of the club, was employed at The Hill school for 78 years before he retired.

The meeting was highlighted with a talk by the Rev. Edgar Cooper, pastor of the New Hanover Lutheran church, Swamp.

The mystery hand shaker gift was given to J. E. Miller, who was the 22d person to attend the meeting.

Two members were also honored who celebrated their birthday.

William A. Barth, president, was in charge of the meeting attended by 79 members.

Joint School Committee Adopts Budget

The New Hanover - Upper Frederick Joint school committee tentatively adopted a $172,755 budget Thursday night.

The joint school board will meet June 1 to take final action on it.

The budget represents an increase of $20,015 over the 1960-61 outlay, with the majority of the increase in salary increases and the addition of three teachers.

In other action the joint committee paid bills totaling $14,387.

biggest success factors of this year's drive.

A Mercury tally showed pupils cleaned up some 336 back and 249 front yards, 25 vacant lots, 92 garages, 76 refuse cans and 50 alley lots.

Clean Up Week also was taken as "Green Up Week" by many pupils

Listed among their efforts were 54 flower boxes, 181 flower and 81 vegetable gardens, 87 lawns, 133 trees and shrubs planted, 54 dead or decayed trees removed and 110 shrubs trimmed.

Pupils also gave 27 street signs a cleaning, cleaned 60 furnaces, spruced up 86 outside house walls and 70 rainspouts, and eradicated a total 85 insect and rodent breeding places.

BUT THEIR biggest clean up-fix up contributions were in household areas of the greatest waste and dirt accumulation. They reported cleaning out some 201 basements, 131 attics and patching up and repairing more than 175 porches.

The sincerity of pupils in the drive was illustrated Thursday by the comments of one parent after his children swarmed over his house doing clean up work.

"I made the blooper of mistaking a Clean Up Week check list for scrap paper and tossed it in a waste basket," he confessed.

"When the kids got through tearing the house and grounds apart and putting them back together again, they looked for the list.

"They couldn't find it. So I confessed my mistake. I haven't been able to get a minute's peace at home since then," he moaned.

Club Changes Meeting Day

A change in meeting days was decided Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Pottstown and Pottsgrove Optimist club. The club voted to move the day from Thursday to Wednesday.

In other action, nomination of officers was conducted. Nominated were: Kenneth M. Fleischmann, president; John Howard, vice president; Howard Heath, secretary, and Edward Fosco, treasurer.

The meeting, at the Clover Leaf restaurant, was presided over by Charles Wiley, president.

Assistant Solicitor To Address Justices

Assistant County Solicitor D. Stewart McElhone will be guest speaker Tuesday at the regular meeting of Montgomery County Justice of the Peace association, at Lakeside Inn, Limerick.

Hosts for the program will be Magistrates Kenneth H. Deloplaine, New Hanover, and Harry E. Burger, Upper Frederick.

Delegates to represent the association at the State convention, which begins June 26 at Easton, will be named.

Clasped in his hands was a small, plastic violin with a caricature on the front. The crewman was turning the hand crank on its side, and from moment to moment lifting it to his ear.

Every so often a broad smile would cross his face as he listened to the music. He offered frequent bows to head scratching passersby as part of his performance.

The Mercury's appeal for contributions to the Salvation Army's clothing drive as part of Clean Up Week showed gratifying results Thursday.

More than 40 borough residents offered clothing and kept the Salvation Army's (FA 6-1621) phone busy most of the day.

Brigadier Paul White stressed the fact items not picked up by a Salvation Army truck Friday could be placed in a specially marked box at the 137 King street parking lot.

Several High street merchants took advantage of Clean Up Week Thursday to do a much needed "house cleaning" of storage and display areas.

Borough refuse collection and highway department crews made several visits to alleys behind the stores, gathering everything from discarded advertising posters to useless merchandise.

"Most of the year we have to haul this stuff away if we want it done," one merchant said. "It's only good sense we get in on this once a year windfall."

Market Withstands Profit Taking To Churn Ahead in Heavy Session

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market weathered some profit-taking Thursday and churned ahead on the heaviest trading in more than two weeks.

An estimated $1.43 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

Volume rose to 5.35 million shares from 4.94 million Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose to an historic high, advancing 1 to 246.70 and just edging out the previous peak of 246.60 established April 11.

Of 1294 issues traded, 639 advanced and 422 declined. New highs for the year totaled 126 and new lows 6.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced and four declined.

Fairchild Engine was the most active stock, rising 1⅝ to 12⅞ on 121,700 shares. Second was Avnet Electronics, up 2⅞ at 56¼, on 88,500 shares. Third was Schenley industries, up 1¾ at 32¾ on 73,400 shares.

Next came Certain-teed up 3⅜ at 58¾ ,and Atlas corporation, up ¼ at 4.

Also actively traded, General Electric gained a point, Sheraton 2⅛ and Ex-Cell-O 1⅝.

Magnavox rose 3½ on news of a 3-for-1 stock split proposal. Polaroid fell 3⅜ on profit taking while Bell and Howell rose a point. Both firms introduced new automatic cameras.

Curtis Publishing, Wednesday most active stock with a rise of 1¾ at 14½, ran out of steam and closed at 14, off ½.

American stock exchange prices advanced in active trading. Volume of 4.13 million shares compared with 3.84 million Wednesday and was the highest since April 4, when 4.2 million shares changed hands.

Arco Electronics "A" rose 3⅜, Philips Electronics 3, Audio Devices 2¾ and Chesebrough Pond's 2⅝ Fairchild camera fell 2 points. Aerojet-General and Technicolor each lost 1¼.

Standard Stocks Respond Well To Optimism of Management

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A brokerage firm had good words to say Thursday about conventional stocks, which have long been overshadowed by the glamor issues.

The standard stocks are responding to the overwhelming optimism expressed by most managements at companies' annual meetings in the last two weeks, according to W. E. Hutton & Co.

Statistics bear out the opinion that the bottom of the recession was in February and there is every sign that the upturn will continue, said the company's analyst, R. E. Buchsbaum.

He added that poor first-quarter earnings are being dismissed lightly with more attention being paid to increased production in recent weeks, progress in controlling costs and anticipation of major improvement in the second half.

So long as this atmosphere continues and we do not have any major setbacks in international relations, said Buchsbaum, it is hard to envision more than a moderate correction in the general market between now and perhaps midsummer.

By the same token, he continued, with no indication of a real boom developing in the general economy and unless inflationary forces become stronger, it is hard to see where the stimulation will come from that might see more than average gains in the rank-and-file investment grade stocks.

"Investors seem to be paying a little more attention to values and the values are certainly there in some of the old-line favorites," Buchsbaum said.

"The steels, motors, chemicals, papers, rubbers and other similar groups have been in a narrow trading range for over two months. They show little net change from late February prices."

The market's basic trend is higher, asserts Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co.

He says what we have to watch for now is an attack on the recent peaks, "and considering the strong underpinnings it seems likely that this will occur soon with the list penetrating even higher."

Gilbert explains that this prediction is based on technical considerations principally because of the market's refusal to give up much ground during periods of selling."

The stock buying that pushed the market into a good advance this week, comments A. M. Kidder & Co., was stimulated by these factors:

The cease-fire in Laos, impressive evidence that the recession in general business has ended, and that cyclical improvement will be witnessed over the remainder of the year.

French Paratroopers Will Retain Uniforms

PARIS (AP) — French parachute troops will not be deprived of their proudly worn camouflage uniforms—as rumored — because some units joined the recent Algiers generals revolt against President Charles de Gaulle. A Defense Ministry source reported however the leopard-spotted battledress will not be worn outside of combat zones or off duty.

Two Executives Say High Motives Prompted Low Dealing On Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Westinghouse Electric Corp. officials testified Thursday that high motives and nothing else prompted them to attend illegal meetings to fix prices.

Landon Fuller and J. T. Thompson listed the motives for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee as a desire to keep workers employed during a time of poor business, a desire to make sure Westinghouse had enough money to engaged in research that would help public and private utilities, and a desire to protect Westinghouse against sharp competitive practices.

Fuller is manager of the switchgear division in Westinghouse's East Pittsburgh Works and Thompson is sales manager of the switchgear and devices department.

Both were fined in a recent federal antitrust case. In that case, a U.S. District Court judge fined 29 electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 company officials nearly $2 million and jailed seven of the officials for price fixing.

The subcommittee turned to Fuller and Thompson after spending days hearing present and former officials of the General Electric Co.

While defending their motives for price fixing, both Fuller and Thompson testified they felt humble and sorry and would not engage in such illegal practices again. They also said they had kept their activities secret from top executives of Westinghouse.

Fuller, who earns $44,000 a year, described himself as "sincerely humble" and as a man who has seen the error of his ways.

One of his purposes, he testified, was to keep people employed during periods of low volume business.

Fuller testified he also felt the switchgear division was doing an important job for utilities by spending money on research to develop improved products.

"I felt we needed a little higher profit," he said.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., the subcommittee chairman, asked, "A higher profit than you could get from free competition?"

"Yes, sir," Fuller replied.

Fuller said the illegal meetings with competitors occasionally raised prices.

Kefauver asked if Fuller had ever discussed the meetings with L. B. McCully, vice president and general manager of Westinghouse's East Pittsburgh division.

"I reported to no one on these matters that we were discussing," Fuller replied.

He said he knew he had been violating the law and would have been embarrassed to tell McCully about it.

Thompson, who earns about $22,000 a year, said Fuller and his predecessors as manager had instructed him to attend the meetings. No one higher than Fuller ever had discussed price fixing with him, Thompson added.

He said meetings had started in the 1930s. All the time, Thompson said, he knew they were illegal, but he did not find out they were criminal until the federal government indicted him in the case.

Thompson said he now has "a lot of humility," but his conscience is easy because he never had tried to gouge anyone.

"We never quoted a price not in accord with our published prices or below," Thompson said. "I felt we were trying to protect ourselves against sharp competitive practices."

"The trouble here is that you were completely defying the law of supply and demand. You were taking it on yourself to say how much the public should pay," Kefauver said.

Kefauver said price-fixing meetings made "a complete mockery" of the antitrust laws.

Thompson, however, said the meetings were not as successful as the public now assumes. These meetings often broke down in bickering, he said.

"I repeat," Thompson continued, "I don't feel we overcharged anyone."

Asked about the secrecy of the meetings, Thompson replied: "We certainly didn't hold the meetings in an arena."

FORD SHOWS HUGE DROP IN EARNINGS

First Quarter Is Down $66 Million Over Last Year

WORLDWIDE SALES DIP 27 PERCENT

DETROIT, (AP) — Ford Motor company Thursday reported first quarter earnings of $76.2 million, equal to $1.39 per share, compared with $143.1 million, or $2.61 a share, in the first quarter of 1960.

Ford was the last of the five auto manufacturers to announce its quarterly figures and the third of the five to show a profit.

Earlier, General Motors had reported a net of $188 million, off $136 million from a year ago and its smallest first quarter profit in eight years. American motors showed a profit of $2.2 million against $14.4 million a year ago.

Chrysler lost $21.9 million and Studebaker-Packard was $6.5 million in the red.

The Ford earnings came on consolidated sales of $1.46 billion compared with sales of $1.52 billion in the first quarter of 1960.

Ford said its worldwide factory sales of cars, trucks and tractors were 27 percent below the similar period a year ago. The total was 654,092 of which 333,242 were domestic cars and 169,533 were cars built abroad by Ford.

Morocco to Benefit From Food Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has set up a $17.8-million food-for-peace project for Morocco—the largest program of its type.

The White House announced Thursday that President Kennedy has authorized his food-for-peace director, George McGovern, to go ahead with a project under which the Moroccan government will use 200,000 tons of U.S. wheat to pay part of the wages of 200,000 workers employed on economic development projects.

House Votes Hike In Highway Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted Thursday to channel an additional $11.7 billion into the federal interstate highway program — and raise the money largely with higher taxes on highway users.

A major provision continues the one-cent portion of the federal gasoline tax which otherwise would drop off July 1.

Both President Kennedy and predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, have cautioned Congress that without additional funds the 41,000-mile network of roads has no chance of being finished on schedule, in 1972.

Its provisions step up allocations to the states to a total of $41.6 billion during the life of the program.

The financing arrangements include $600 million annually from continuing the gasoline tax at its present 4-cent-a-gallon rate, $150 million from other highway taxes, and the switching of 5 per cent of the excise tax on trucks and buses from the general Treasury to the highway fund, for another $150 million annually.

AMBASSADOR ARRIVES

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The new U.S. ambassador to Belgium, Douglas MacArthur II, arrived Thursday. He was ambassador to Tokyo. He replaces William A. M. Burden.

SEC Orders 2 Expelled From Stock Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday ordered the immediate expulsion from membership in the American Stock Exchange of Jerry Re and his son Gerard Re, accused of wholesale market manipulation.

The two men until a year ago had conducted the daily auctions in about 20 stocks traded on the exchange, the nation's second largest. The exchange suspended them when the SEC charges were brought.

The expulsion order was issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission just two hours after the commissioners had heard oral arguments in the case.

During the public arguments, Jerry Re was described by his own lawyer as a "truculent and arrogant old man" who could not be defended against the SEC's charges.

However, attorney Milton Gould contended that Gerard Re, 38, bore much less guilt in the scandal involving alleged price-rigging and illegal sales of stock worth nearly $10 million.

The haste with which the commission acted was not explained. Normally, it would have been expected to withhold its decision for several weeks.

The commission said its findings and opinion in the case will be issued later.

In addition to expelling the Res from the exchange, the SEC revoked their brokerage licenses. That was the extent of the penalty it could impose. It declined to say whether it has referred the case to the Justice Department for possible criminal action.

Standing Alone

This photo was made just after the huge gantry crane was moved away from the Redstone missile with the Mercury capsule in its nose. Weather conditions were unsettled and later caused postponement of the first scheduled flight.

Weather Is Eyed For Space Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Florida skies cleared Thursday to make it a better than 50-50 chance that astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., will be the first American shot into space Friday morning.

The final countdown began at 1:30 a. m., after a weather conference decided that seas and skies are right for the shot.

The first phase of the countdown began at 8:30 a.m. Thursday. It was proceeding perfectly.

But postponement can come at any time, should the weather picture change.

"We have no concrete assurance at this time that the weather will be perfect," a space agency spokesman said. But another added: "The weather, here, now, is most suitable for launching."

It was expected to hold up through the critical morning hours Friday when Shepard rides up to the third level of the huge gantry and boards the Redstone rocket's space capsule.

From 8 a.m. on, the rocket can at any moment take Shepard on his 15-minute, 115-mile-high ride to a rendezvous with waiting recovery ships 290 miles out in the Atlantic.

The weather support group for Project Mercury said there would be "fair weather in the Cape area Friday" and partly cloudy skies with a few widely scattered showers in the recovery area downrange.

However the present skies were expected to have "increasing cloudy cover in late morning."

Winds and seas in the Cape area were moderate, but waves neared four feet in the Bahamas and Caribbean.

The condition of the wind and the waves are essential because they influence the recovery of the capsule from the sea and the downward parachute ride from some 18,000 feet.

There seems little doubt that Shepard will be the man who steps into the space capsule. But it is contingent upon the final physical examinations. Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the backup man, is standing by in case he must step into Shepard's role.

Wednesday, dressed in sports clothes, Shepard and Glenn went through exercises in a flight simulator. They bypassed such activities Thursday. Burt North, an engineer from McDonnell Aircraft Corp. which makes the space capsule, climbed into the capsule atop the waiting rocket and checked it out completely.

Technicians checked out a movie camera aboard and another device that will tell doctors on earth how the astronaut's heart is performing. Both devices had given earlier trouble.

The simulated flights ran up to 1¾ hours long. "Each of them was very good," a spokesman said.

Thursday, Shepard and Glenn ate at normal schedules, dinner coming about 7:30 p.m., in the grey-walled dining room at the forward medical area. Then they return to their quarters to sleep.

Waking time is 3 a.m., beginning the space pilot's final preparations: shower, shave, breakfast physical examination, suiting-up, briefing.

Lightning Strikes Transport Plane At 14,000 Feet

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP)—A U.S. Air Force transport plane packed with service families—among them women and babies—was struck by lightning en route from Britain to the United States Thursday.

The four-engine C118A landed here safely with holes in wings and fuselage showing where the bolt hit.

None of the 62 passengers or crew of 10 was hurt in the buffeting the plane took after leaving Mildenhall Air Base for McGuire Air Force Base, N. J.

The lightning struck at 14,000 feet as the plane was headed for Prestwick to pick up more homebound Americans.

Aubrey Morris of Atlanta, Ga., who was a passenger, said: "It was pretty frightening. I admit I was darned scared. I was told the bolt hit the right wing, went through the fuselage and came out through the top of the rudder."

The plane was grounded at Prestwick for repairs and was due to continue to McGuire base Friday.

JOHNSON TRIP TO MANILA IS PLANNED

Mission Designed To Reassure Allies

SOUTHEAST ASIA SITUATION IS CITED

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is dispatching Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to Southeast Asia. There, Johnson evidently will try to reassure allies of U. S. support against Communist inroads.

No exact dates have been announced, but the vice president is expected to leave next week for the Philippines, South Viet Nam, and Thailand.

Authoritative sources reported the forthcoming trip, although Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, would say only that the President was considering such a mission for Johnson.

Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo, however, said Johnson will go to Manila to confer with President Carlos P. Garcia and other government leaders about the situation in Southeast Asia.

At the same time, diplomatic sources reported that the State Department had canceled a scheduled Asian trip by Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles. South Korea, Japan, Cambodia, Burma and India had been on his itinerary.

The Korean Embassy confirmed that Bowles had canceled his scheduled visit to Seoul on May 11. He was to address an international conference on community development then.

Sources said the department canceled Bowles' trip because of the possibility that Secretary of State Dean Rusk would attend a 14-nation meeting to discuss a peace settlement for Laos. The conference is scheduled to open in Geneva, May 12.

Romulo confirmed Johnson's scheduled trip to Manila as news dispatches reported that the Philippines government was unhappy with the failure of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to take strong action against Communist forces in Laos.

Romulo said he had been urging for some time that the United States support its Asian allies in their plea for a stronger stand by SEATO.

Romulo's remark was another indication that the United States was in trouble with its Southeast Asian allies over the way it has handled the crisis in Laos.

Thousands Stranded In New York Subway

NEW YORK (AP) — A manhole fire in Brooklyn forced the shutdown of power in a large section of the BMT subway system Thursday, stranding thousands of passengers on trains and platforms in Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Four passengers on a train stalled at the De Kalb Ave. station in Brooklyn suffered temporary shock and had to be given oxygen. They were not hospitalized.

The disruption stopped service completely for an hour on the line before regular runs were restored.

At about the same time, a similar difficulty hit a branch of the IRT system in Brooklyn, where a power failure temporarily halted a number of trains.

Rusk Claims Reds Threaten South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared Thursday the Communists are making a concerted effort with outside support to wreck the pro-Western government of South Viet Nam. He pledged a strong U. S. effort to strengthen the regime and forces of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

Rusk told a news conference that a cease-fire in Laos is in prospect. He said he plans to head the U. S. delegation to a proposed 14-nation conference on Laos beginning at Geneva, May 12—assuming the cease-fire is firmly established.

But with his hopeful stress on the coming of peace to Laos, Rusk coupled a warning that the fight to halt the Communist offensive in Southeast Asia now simply focuses more dramatically on South Viet Nam.

In reasponse to a specific question he declined either to confirm or to rule out the possibility that the United States might send troops to South Viet Nam. He declared this country would make a strong effort to reinforce Diem and he said a wide range of help is needed.

New Superagency Will Investigate CIA Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy set up a superagency Thursday to examine the workings of this country's vital intelligence activities.

He named a new advisory board headed by Dr. James R. Killian Jr. and composed of six other top-drawer civilian and ex-military leaders.

The President's move was applauded on Capitol Hill but it did not head off a move to create a joint congressional committee to oversee the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency.

DR. JAMES B. KILLIAN

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the Senate will go ahead with hearings soon on a resolution by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., to create a Senate-House watchdog committee.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the Senate's assistant Democratic leader, said the CIA, which carries on its global operations in strict secrecy, "needs more scrutinizing and less publicizing."

Humphrey expressed the opinion that if Killian and his fellow panel members move "carefully and promptly to a review of the CIA activities" there will be less pressure for congressional action.

The White House described the Killian group as a broadened version of the Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower established during his second term.

Balloon Flight Ends in Tragedy

Tower Tragedy Is Probed

Col. Ivan Impson of the Air Force points out details of a model of the Texas Tower Number 4 which collapsed in a storm with a loss of 28 men. He was appearing before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in Washington. Behind him are Air Force Col. John C. McGill and Joseph V. Charyk, undersecretary of the Air Force.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Design Faults Blamed For Collapse of Tower

WASHINGTON (AP)—An engineer testified Thursday that an offshore radar tower which collapsed with a loss of 28 lives had basic design weaknesses which virtually doomed it before it even was completed.

And these fundamental weaknesses were aggravated by damage suffered by the $21-million Texas Tower No. 4 while it was being put in place, Leon B. DeLong of New York told a Senate subcommittee.

The tower was erected by the Navy in the Atlantic 85 miles east of Atlantic City as part of the radar warning system to detect hostile aircraft or missiles. It was manned by 28 Air Force men and civilian repairmen when it collapsed in a gale the night of Jan. 15.

The Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee headed by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., is trying to determine what caused the tragedy. However, the group is limiting its inquiry to events before Jan. 12 when the Air Force was warned by contractors that the tower—known to servicemen as "Old Shaky"—was in dangerous condition. Three Air Force officers face possible court-martial trials aimed at fixing responsibility for what happened in the Jan. 12-15 period.

DeLong was the only witness Thursday before the hearings were recessed until next Wednesday.

DeLong, chairman of the board of the DeLong Construction Co., said his firm built Texas tower No. 2 off Nantucket but refused to bid on the Nov. 4 job on the basis of specifications laid down by the Navy.

Instead, he said, a bid was submitted on an alternative design but this was $1 million above the low bid on the original plan and was rejected.

Navy Scientific Observer Dies After Slipping From Helicopter Sling

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of two Navy balloonists who soared to a record height Thursday met death later when he fell from the sling of a helicopter that had picked him up in the Gulf of Mexico.

Lt. Cmdr. Victor G. Prather of Bethesda, Md., died aboard the carrier Antietam about an hour and 10 minutes after being pulled from the sea.

His companion on the balloon flight, Cmdr. Malcolm Ross of Washington, was lifted to safety without any difficulty.

The balloon had soared to about 21½ miles above the Gulf. This was the greatest height above the earth's surface ever reached by a manned balloon.

The huge plastic envelope was launched off the mouth of the Mississippi River from the flight deck of the Antietam.

It reached its maximum altitude of approximately 113,500 feet two hours and 36 minutes later at a point about 136 miles south of Mobile, Ala.

The carrier followed the balloon as it drifted across the Gulf on a southeasterly course.

Navy officials here reported the gondola landed on the water properly and the huge balloon detached itself as it had been designed to do. The gondola floated on the surface.

Three helicopters proceeded at once to pick up the two balloonists. The Navy said Ross was lifted by helicopter sling to safety without any trouble.

As Prather was being hoisted into the helicopter he fell in some manner from the sling, the Navy said. There was no word on just how far he fell.

But he was encumbered with a space suit and instrumentation weighing about 25 pounds when dry. On hitting the water the suit would have further hindered his efforts to swim, it was indicated.

Two Navy skindivers got to Prather in a few minutes but he was unconscious when pulled from the water and apparently never regained consciousness.

The body was flown to the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla. for an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Prather was commissioned as a flight surgeon seven years ago, and he previously had served as a hospital corpsman in the Navy in 1945-46.

He was scientific observer on the balloon flight.

Prather was married and had two children, a daughter, Marla Lee, 6, and a son, Victor III, aged 3. His wife, Virginia, lives in Bethesda.

A native of Detroit, Prather attended Tufts College of Medford, Mass., and returned there after his tenure as a Navy enlisted man to receive his bachelor's degree, in 1947, and his medical doctorate, in 1952. He had been assigned to the Bethesda Naval Research Center since late 1959.

As an officer, Prather attended the School of Aviation Medicine at Pensacola, Fla., and had served at the naval hospital at Great Lakes, Mich., on the USS Shangri La, and the San Diego, Calif., Naval Air Station, and Navy hospitals in Philadelphia and Honolulu.

While a civilian, he was a resident in pathology at Hurley Hospital, Flint, Mich.

Canadian Nuns Are Ordered To Leave Cuba

QUEBEC (AP) — Sixteen Canadian nuns teaching in Cuba have been ordered to return to Canada, their general superior said Thursday night.

Sister Ste. Eugenie of the Servantes du Saint-Coeur-De-Marie Congregation said the nuns have been ordered to return because Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government is forcing them "to teach Communist slogans and principles, and this they refuse to do."

The are due here in a few days.

Sister Ste. Eugenie said very little news has been received from the nuns since the ill-starred anti-Castro invasion of Cuba two weeks ago.

However, she was informed by Canada's Foreign Ministry and the Foreign Missions Society that they are well and free.

Pupils to Crown Sixth Grader Queen of May

PARKER FORD—Phone HY 5-6275 Lile McDonald del. Phone Glenview 8-5219.

May Day exercises will be held at East Covenentry Elementary school, Parker Ford, today at 1:30 p. m. on the school lawn.

Following the crowning of a Sixth grade girl as queen of the May there will be a program of songs and dances by each classroom at the school. The queen's court will be made up of representatives of each age group.

The queen and her consort are chosen by popular vote of the pupils. In previous years, the identity of the queen was not revealed even to the girl who had been chosen until immediately before the coronation ceremonies.

This year the queen and her court were announced following their election. Bouquets and arrangements of flowers decorate the "stage" at the front of the school. A piano is moved onto the lawn and piano accompaniment is played for songs and dances by Therese McShane, music instructor.

GOES ANYWHERE: the world's best 4-wheel drive takes the Land-Rover over any terrain, up and down incredible 45°-plus grades, through brush, swamp and desert. Yet on the highway, it cruises easily and comfortably at touring speeds. DOES ANYTHING: hauls, tows, operates portable and stationary machinery from three power take-off points. The Land-Rover has proved indispensable in agriculture, industry and private use around the world, in the armed services of over 23 countries and the police forces of 31. LAND-ROVER offers a wide range of body styles in two chassis lengths, plus a choice of gasoline or diesel engines. High and low gear ratios give a total of eight speeds forward and two reverse. Test-drive the Land-Rover to see for yourself why it is called "the world's most versatile vehicle."

Religious Census Set By Churches

NEW HANOVER — Miss Mildred Wagner, Corr., Phone FA 6-0300. Kenneth Smith, Del., Phone PL 4-2328.

A religious census of New Hanover Township will be conducted on Sunday afternoon.

The project will be sponsored jointly by Falkner Swamp Reformed United Church of Christ and the New Hanover Lutheran church.

The visitation to all homes will be made between 2 and 5 o'clock.

A questionaire about the church affiliation of each family will require about five minutes to fill out. Residents living in the area are asked to receive the visitors and give all assistance in making the religious census complete and accurate.

The calls will be made by 75 members of the two congregations. The joint committee is headed by co-chairman Thomas Miller of the Falkner Swamp church, and Earl Mackrich of the New Hanover Lutheran church.

THE MEMBERS of the congregations who will make the survey will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the parish house of the New Hanover Lutheran church for a short briefing and to learn the areas which are to be canvassed.

The religious survey is planned as a continuation of the recent census conducted in Pottstown and Gilbertsville. Care will be taken not to cover areas already surveyed.

Icebreaker Returns With Famous Dog

TOKYO (AP)—The icebreaker Soya Maru returned Thursday from its fourth annual antarctic trip with 17 scientists, 94 crewmen and Taro, the most famous dog in Japan. Taro was one of several sleigh dogs the scientists had to leave behind in 1958.

When they returned the next year, they found Taro was one of two dogs that had lasted the antarctic winter unaided. The other dog later ran away.

Carson R. Heil and Judy Horne Wed In St. Mark's Lutheran, Pennsburg

Judy Horne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Earl Horne, 211 Dotts street, Pennsburg, became the bride of Carson R. Heil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Heil, Allentown, in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Pennsburg.

The Rev. H. M. Kistler officiated at the marriage. Palms, white gladioli and white carnations banked the altar of the church. Organ selections were played by Diane Wetzel. Soloist was Mrs. Susan Blank Tyson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza featuring a sabrina neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a paneled skirt ending in a chapel length train.

Her veil of silk illusion was draped from a Juliet cap of small Spring flowers. She carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Patricia Schimmel, Allentown. She chose a pink silk organza street length dress with draped bodice and floral embroidered skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Sell, Pennsburg RD, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Norman Wilde, Glenside, former roommate of the bride. They were gowned like that of the honor attendant.

Judith Duld, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She chose a white nylon dress over pink taffeta and a headpiece of pink and white carnations.

Julius Duld, attended his brother-in-law as best man. Seating the guests were: Milton Heil, brother of the bridegroom and Robert O'Brien, all of Allentown.

Following a reception in the church social rooms, the couple left for a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains. For traveling, the bride chose a black and white two piece dress and white accessories.

Upon return, they will reside in Allentown. The bride is a graduate of Upper Perkiomen High school and Lankenau School of Nursing. She is employed as assistant head nurse at Allentown hospital. Her husband is a graduate of Allentown High school, spent four years with the U. S. Navy and is affiliated with Bethlehem Steel company.

Exchange Teacher to England Speaks At Annual Pollyanna Class Banquet

Margaret Kulp, Phoenixville RD 2, was guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Pollyanna class of Bethel Methodist church, Spring City RD 1, held in Kimberton Grange hall, Kimberton.

Miss Kulp, a member of the faculty of Schuylkill township school, spent a year as an exchange teacher in Buxton, England, in the school year 1958-59.

Slides were shown of the metropolitan as well as the rural areas of England. Miss Kulp taught 37 children in one of the elementary grades of the school. She compared classrooms, methods of teaching, and told of customs of the English people. Physical education is an important part of the school curriculum, the speaker said.

At the end of her planned program, those attending requested that Miss Kulp show her collection of slides taken on a trip to Holland which included many beautiful pictures of tulips and Dutch gardens.

Pastor of the church, the Rev. Walter S. Johnston, offered the opening prayer preceding the banquet. Each guest was presented a potted marigold as a favor. Other table decorations were done in green and white.

Mrs. Noah Kelley read scripture during a devotional period followed by prayer by Mrs. Ernest McFarland. A Bible quiz was in charge of Mrs. McFarland. Mrs. Harry Van Riper, president, was in charge of the business session which followed.

The pastor, the Rev. Johnston, reminded members of the special services which will commemorate the church's 117th anniversary on Sunday. A letter from the Korean foster child supported by the class was read to the group.

Class teacher, Mrs. Joseph Kern, speaking in behalf of choir director, Mrs. W. Howard Montgomery, told the women that more female voices are needed in the choir. A special women's choral group will sing on Mother's Day at the church.

Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. James Robinson are heading a committee to plan a cake bake in the near future.

Committee for the regular June meeting will be Mrs. Kern, Mrs. Arthur Kring, Mrs. Andrew Haines, Mrs. William Meredith and Mrs. George Crosland. The class holds bi-monthly meetings.

At the close of the evening, those present formed a Friendship Circle and sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." The Lord's Prayer closed the affair. Twenty-eight persons attended.

Present were Mrs. Kern, Mrs. J. William Bechtel, Mrs. Walter Cook, Mrs. Herbert Collins, Mrs. George F. Dougherty and a guest; Mrs. Andrew Haines, Mrs. McFarland, Mrs. J. Kenneth McCauley, Mrs. William Meredith, Mrs. Esther Brown, Mrs. James Robinson, Mrs. John B. Peterman and Mrs. Joseph Somics.

Also, Mrs. Ralph Shick, Mrs. Vernon Stott, Mrs. Van Riper, Mrs. George Walleigh, Mrs. Raymond Miller, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. George Crosland, Mrs. Frank Loomis, Mrs. Clyde Handwork, Mrs. B. Franklin Mowrer, Mrs. Elton Mowrer, Mrs. Duncan Finkbiner, the Rev. Johnston and Miss Kulp.

Ever slice par-boiled sweet potatoes thin and fry in a generous amount of fat in a skillet?

Youth Fellowship Has Skating Party At Ringing Rocks

The group was accompanied by the Rev. T. E. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Leatherman, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Groff, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McMullen, Mrs. Abram Weller, Mrs. Louise Mauger and daughter, Debbie.

Attending from the Fellowship were: Donald Young, Gloria Macken, Dennis Kriebel, William Young, Daniel Stone, Tony Budanow, John Wright, Nina Budanow, Arlene Weller, Mary Gebler, John Damiani, Linda Mauger, JoAnn Gebler, April Groff.

Also, Bonnie Mauger, Faith Young, Sandra Groff, Kay McMullen, Jerry Groff and Terry Sullivan.

Donald Silknitter Elected President Of French Creek Valley Jointure PTA

Retiring president Fred Cadmus 3d was in charge of the meeting. Also elected to office were: first vice president, Mrs. Kenneth Batdorf; second vice president, William Badner; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Lawrence; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward Loomis and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Linn.

Mrs. Joseph Placido Sr. was in charge of the opening devotions. A past president, Mrs. Irving S. Dunn, spoke on the PTA four year scholarship which will be presented to an eligible Senior boy or girl. She also conducted installations.

William Madden was in charge of the program. He introduced Louis W. Buckwalter, health and physical education teacher at Owen J. Roberts High school.

Mr. Buckwalter spoke on the need of a physical education program at elementary level.

He told members that a child should have physical as well as mental recreation. He pointed out that the program should start with the young child in teaching him how to play.

"We're too soft," the speaker added. "We drive when we should walk. This prevents us from obtaining the proper exercise."

Two pupils from the high school, Lance Caleen and Ricky Kevir, performed on the parallel bars.

The retiring president thanked ways and means chairman, Mrs. Michael Carlini, and her assistant, Mrs. Kenneth Batdorf, for their untiring efforts in fund raising projects for the PTA.

Mrs. Virginia Good was commended for her work and cooperation as secretary. Mrs. Sally Houck received acknowledgement for programs which she arranged during the year.

Mr. Madden spoke on scouting and troop 101 which is sponsored by the PTA. Sponsorship will be turned over to the Chester County Sportsman's club by the next school term.

DOROTHY SIMONS

There are many times when cooking is downright inconvenient! I love to cook, but when company arrives unexpectedly, when housecleaning time rolls around, or on such busy occasions as when we moved recently, I am delighted to call on professional help in preparing meals! Take advantage of the good home cooked food you can buy when you entertain, when you plan a day of gardening or shopping, and when you feel you deserve the treat of a vacation from the kitchen! The finest food I've ever had the pleasure of serving my family and friends is from

JERRY'S CHICKEN BAR-B-QUE, located at 412 High street. Many times I telephone my order (FA 3-9495) so that it will be ready to pick up at my convenience. Their delicious chickens (done with Jerry Rucio's own secret sauce) are absolutely wonderful. You can buy any amount from a half chicken to a dozen or more and you can eat them there or take them home! I particularly like their Bar-B-Qued "Chicken in the Basket," which includes pickles and chips and costs just $1.50. Now Jerry's Chicken Bar-B-Que also specializes in seafood to eat there or to take out. You have a choice of oysters, fish, scallops, crab cakes and shrimp. This is really an easy and economical snack or meal! The fish and crab cakes are just 30c, and there's often a "special" of a basket of shrimp for just 99c. Bar-B-Qued chicken or pork sandwiches are just 35c. You can buy delicious home baked beans, home made chicken gravy, and many other delicacies at this fine shop. They carry famous Newhart's salads and deserts to help you complete your meal. Hours are Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday 11 a. m. until 7 p. m. and weekends (Friday, Saturday and Sunday) from 11 a. m. until 9 p. m. During the coming picnic time order plenty of Jerry's food to eliminate work, and remember they are open all day Sunday! "FOR A PARTY, A SNACK OR A MEAL" that's delicious, inexpensive and so convenient you don't even need to wash a dish—call on Jerry's Chicken Bar-B-Q! I always do, and I am always pleased with their food!

This is it! Your chance to stock up on many needs at the famous "Two for the price of one, plus a penny" sale! And just in time for housecleaning! When you go through your medicine chest, throw away all those medicines and prescriptions that you collected during the Winter. They are most often useless, sometimes even dangerous, so don't clutter your bathroom with them. Stock up with fresh supplies from

BAUSE'S SUPER DRUG STORE, North Charlotte street, which is featuring an exciting Rexall sale on drugs, medicines, toiletries and many items you need daily. During the Summer the children will have minor cuts and bruises. Stock up on bandages, mercurochrome, adhesive tape and sterile cotton so that you can take care of them. Summer sun brings on many headaches in our family, and I plan to stock up on aspirins! Deodorant, toilet water and scented soap are aids to the problem of being dainty when the temperature soars, and it's nice to know that now the price is just "Two for the price of one, plus a penny"! It will pay big dividends in saving if you just visit Bause's Super Drug Store to browse around and find your own bargains. All Rexall products are on sale at "Two for the price of one plus a penny," and Bause's have added many of their own sale items to the selection. You'll find your money goes almost twice as far when you shop at Bause's Super Drug Store! These products are not "left overs" and the selection is not limited. There is a complete line of all your needs, and everything is fresh, new and of the finest quality! I don't need to tell you that it will be a long time until another sale like this comes our way, so shop today to be sure you get everything you need. Bause's also have some wonderful Mother's Day gift ideas, a complete line of Hallmark's fine Mother's Day Cards as well as special boxes of Whitman candy decorated beautifully for Mother on her day! You can do all your shopping for the favorite women on your list right at Bause's. The parking is free, the gift wrapping is free — and it's always fun to shop at Bause's!

The very newest method of reducing is by "passive exercise." While you lie comfortably on a couch, your body is gently exercised to remove excess weight. It does not increase the appetite as ordinary tiresome exercise would, and it leaves the body firm and youthful-looking instead of "flabby" as when you diet. This truly delightful way to reduce was designed by

STAUFFER, whose "Magic couch" is at MARJORIE'S MAGIC MIRROR, located at 388 North Charlotte street. I know you will enjoy your very first visit, and you will find it's the one successful way to reduce excess fat just where you want it off. The visits are pleasant, relaxing and inexpensive. This beauty center is named "Marjorie's Magic Mirror" because it includes facilities for complete beauty care — and women are delighted to look into a seemingly "magic" mirror after they have visited this shop! They have an excellent beauty salon, with the talented Gabrielle Williams, hair stylist, who does expect coloring, setting, and shaping as well as soft natural permanents. Their famous Zeigler facial is nothing short of a miracle. After my first facial I noticed a great improvement. The method is to gently strengthen tiny facial muscles by exercise so that they tighten and lift the muscles of the face. This also shrinks pores and thoroughly cleanses the face! Incidentally, beauty and fashion magazines are devoting precious editorial space to the miracles of these new beauty aids, all found at Marjorie's Magic Mirror — telephone FA 6-0814 for your appointment today!

JOSEPH W. MOYER'S collections. This nice store is located at 24 North Charlotte street. They have a wonderful array of costume jewelry by many famous names, one of which is Trifari. There is a style for very Mother, be she modern, old-fashioned or "in-between." Every color, every type metal or stone, every fashion is represented in this display! If you wish something in better jewelry, Joseph W. Moyer has a beautiful and large selection of all the traditional favorites as well as modern styles. Cameo, crystal, birthstones, scarabs, pearls and a wonderful group of pins are just a few ideas at this shop. Joseph W. Moyer guarantees everything he sells to be of fine quality. The beautiful gift wrapping is without charge. I know you will enjoy flattering Mother with a gift from this excellent shop on Mother's Day. ## Prizes Awarded to Mothers At Social Given By Ladies Auxiliary of Norco

Flowers were awarded as prizes for a Mother's Day social at a meeting of the Norco Fire company Ladies auxiliary in the firehall.

Prizes were given to: youngest mother, Marie Trythall; oldest mother, Carrie Crawford; mother with the youngest child, Eleanor Ellis; youngest grandmother, Ella Chappie, and mother with the most grandchildren, Terry Creasy.

Mother with most children, Terry Creasy and mother with the birthday closest to Mother's Day, Ruth Mock.

President, Marie Kline conducted the meeting. A Mother's Day banquet was planned for Mother's Day at the firehall. The event slated as an all day affair will be sponsored by the men and the auxiliary.

All members were urged to assist with the affair. Mabel Keim will be in charge of the dining room. Members were requested to loan high chairs for the banquet.

In preparation for the affair, the men will wash the windows and the women will wash the curtains.

Standing reports were heard from the committees. Mrs. Creasy was congratulated for getting many patrons for the Ludwig's Corner Horse show of which the auxiliary is taking an active part.

The auxiliary purchased a water cooler for the social room. It was agreed to take a trip to Atlantic City, N. J., on July 29 by members of the group.

Pigs in the box were won by Eevlyn Hess, Stella Gonder and Frances Frain. Hostesses in charge of the social were Ella Chappie, Bernice Lengel and Verna Jackley.

Hostesses for the June social will be Frances Frain and Veronica Yurick. Members were asked to bring a prize for the social.

PLACE APART

If you like your baking powder biscuits crusty, be sure to place them well apart from each other on the baking sheet.

MARINATE

WED IN SUMNEYTOWN—Agnes Mae Kleinsmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kleinsmith, Pennsburg, became the bride of John Geist, Alburtis, at the parsonage of St. John's Lutheran church, Sumneytown. Officiating at the single ring ceremony was the Rev. E. L. Angstadt, pastor. Mr. Geist is a son of Milton Geist, Macungie and the late Mildred Geist. For her wedding, the bride chose a mint green pima cotton dress with a stitch pleated bodice and sleeves. To complete her attire, she wore white accessories and a headband of white rosebuds. Witnessing the ceremony were Milton Geist and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bauer, of Pennsburg. The newlyweds are residing at 598 Main street, Red Hill.

Richard Supplee and Sandra Lee Chup Married in Greek Catholic Church

A wedding of local interest took place in Holy Ghost Orthodox Greek Catholic church, Phoenixville, when Sandra Lee Chup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chup, Jacob street, Mont Clare, became the bride of Richard Supplee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Supplee, Phoenixville.

The Rev. Stephen Shutack officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was provided by the church choir. Palms, white gladioli, carnations and chrysanthemums decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of chantilly lace and silk organza. The dress was styled with a portrait neckline with buttons descending down the back and long tapered sleeves pointing at the wrists.

Attendants were gowned in floor length dresses of shades of lilac silk organza. The dresses were styled with oval necklines and dome bell skirts with bows. Their headpieces were rosettes matching their gowns with iridescents and veils.

A reception for approximately 300 guests was held at the Kimberton firehall. The new Mrs. Supplee chose a beige suit with orange color accessories and a white orchid corsage for traveling. After a honeymoon trip to the Pocono Mountains, the couple will reside at Egypt road, Oaks.

Mrs. Supplee is a graduate of Spring-Ford High school and is employed as a secretary at Synthane corporation. Mr. Supplee, a graduate of Phoenixville High school is employed by the same corporation.

MR. AND MRS. FRANCIS WENTLEY BACHMAN

Joan Ann Johnson Becomes Bride Of Francis Bachman in Norristown

The marriage of Joan Ann Johnson and Francis Wentley Bachman was solemnized in All Saints Episcopal church, Norristown, by the Rev. Preston J. Ough.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. B. Weldon Johnson, reside at Creamery. Mr. Bachman is a son of Mrs. Clair O'Connell, 108 Oakland avenue, Eagleville, and the late Irvin Bachman.

Mixed white flowers decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony. Two hundred guests attended from Allentown, New Jersey, Philadelphia, Norristown, Creamery, Collegeville, Eagleville and Trappe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel trained gown of chantilly lace and silk organza. The lace bodice was fashioned with a jeweled sabrina neckline and long lace sleeves. The bouffant organza skirt featured four floating panels of chantilly lace and was trimmed with silk organza roses.

A veil of silk illusion fell from her coronet of pearls and iridescents. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. George Wetzel, Kulpsville, was matron of honor for her sister. She chose a gown of orchid silk organza styled with a fitted bodice, mandarin neckline and elbow length sleeves.

The bouffant skirt was accented in back with orchid satin roses. To complete her ensemble, she wore a matching petal hat with circular veil and carried a bouquet of gold carnations.

Joyce Johnson, sister of the bridegroom, and Janice King, Lansdale, served as bridesmaids in ensembles identical to that worn by the honor attendant.

Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, received guests in a deep pink sheath dress of peau de soie, matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. O'Connell, mother of the bridegroom, chose a blue flowered silk dress, and coat ensemble, light blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For traveling the bride wore a two piece suit in deep pink, matching hat, patent leather accessories and her bridal orchid.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Collegeville-Trappe High school. The new Mrs. Bachman also was graduated from Lansdale School of Business and is employed in the office of Superior Tube company, Collegeville.

Mrs. Robert Peiffer Leads Program For Women's Guild of Brownback's

Mrs. Robert Peiffer Parker Ford was in charge of the program at the monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of Brownback's United Church of Christ.

A worship period, in charge of Mrs. Edna Wheatley, opened the session in the church, Ridge road, Spring City RD 1.

"Into All the World Together" was theme of the mission emphasis program on a world-wide level.

Five women served as members of a panel representing mission work in Asia, Africa, Europe and North and South America.

Conducting the business session was president, Mrs. Stanley H. Brungess, when members were reminded of the annual guild sponsored family fellowship dinner Sunday at 5:30 p. m. in the church.

Guest speakers will be former missionaries to Thailand, the Rev. and Mrs. Albert B. Newport, Parkesburg. The Rev. Newport will show colored slides during the evening and both he and Mrs. Newport will speak.

The guild will serve as hostesses for a reception following ordination ceremonies for George B. Haltenian at the church on June 11. Mrs. Donald Nelson, chairman, will choose a committee to plan the affair.

Next regular meeting of the guild will be June 5 in charge of Mrs. Russell Stauffer. June will be Mission Emphasis Month. Opening worship will be led by Mrs. William Copenhaver serving as hostess.

Following adjournment, Mrs. Brungess served refreshments.

Attending were Annie Bechtel, Mrs. Robert W. Caldwell, Mrs. Warren C. Holden Sr., Mrs. Brungess, Mrs. Lloyd Rohrbach, Mrs. Peiffer, Mrs. Prizer, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Roussey, Mrs. Weatley, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Keck.

Divinity Fudge Returns to Popularity With Other Fashions of the 1920s

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(Associated Press Food Editor)

Now that the 1920s have inspired this Spring's dress styles, how about reviving the candy that the flapper era ushered into home kitchens?

Divinity! While flappers were learning to do the Charleston, their mothers were probably learning how to beat up a batch of this luscious fudge. According to our culinary sleuthing, recipes for Divinity Fudge didn't begin to appear in our cook books until after World War I.

Probably the offspring of age-old nougat candy, our guess is that Divinity was sold in candy shops before home cooks ferreted out the secrets of its making. By 1929 Divinity was in its heyday, and was known also as "fluff" or "feather" candy.

A 1929 candy cook book gives five ways to vary the original vanilla-flavored Divinity: Rose Mint (colored pink and flavored with wintergreen); Pineapple (chopped candied pineapple added); Sea-foam (made with light brown sugar); Brown Sugar (made with dark brown sugar); and Chocolate.

The first home recipes for Divinity took long, long beating because a one-temperature method for boiling the syrup to be beaten into the egg whites was used. We find that the two-temperature method given in the following recipe cuts down greatly on beating time. This Chocolate Divinity is easy to make, and so easy to eat that our family keeps asking for more!

CHOCOLATE DIVINITY

2½ cups sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans (if desired)

In a medium-sized saucepan (about 2 quarts) mix together the sugar, corn syrup, water and salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Reduce heat: cook without stirring to 248 degrees (on a candy thermometer) or until 1 teaspoon of the syrup dropped into 1 cup ice-cold water forms a firm ball that does not flatten. Just before syrup reaches 248 degrees, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Pour about ½ of the syrup very slowly over the beaten egg whites, beating constantly until blended. Meanwhile cook the remainder of the syrup to 272 degrees or until 1 teaspoon dropped into 1 cup ice-cold water separates into threads that are hard but not brittle. Add syrup, about 1 tablespoon at a time, to the first mixture, beating well after each addition and using either a wooden spoon or an electric mixer. If mixture becomes too thick for mixer, continue beating with a wooden spoon. Continue beating 5 minutes after last addition of syrup. Add melted chocolate and vanilla. Beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss and holds its shape when dropped from a spoon — about 5 minutes more. It nuts are used, mix them in at the end of this beating period. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Makes about 1¼ pounds.

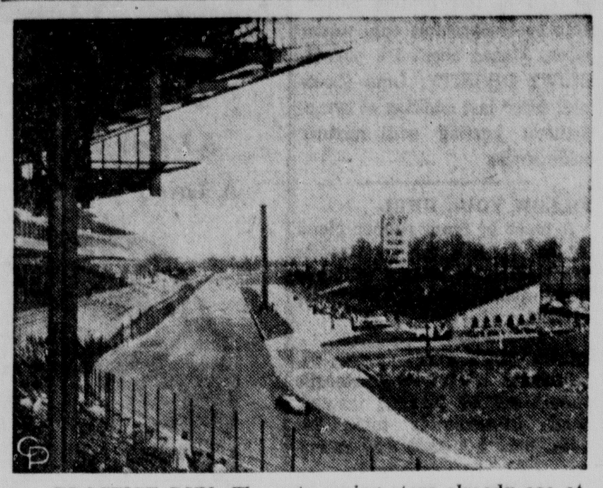
Barth Hurls Wildcats to 3-1 Ches-Mont Win Over Trojans



PRACTICE RUN—The auto racing stars already are at it at Indianapolis, where they are making practice runs for the 500-mile event May 30.

Pete Barth throttled Pottstown's Trojans at the plate Thursday, and his Wildcat teammates scored three times in the second inning to halt the Upper section pacesetters, 3-1 at Bucktown.

The loss was the third in nine outings for the Trojans, and sweet revenge for both Barth and the Wildcats who were beaten by the same Trojans, 2-1 on opening day at Memorial park.

The Cats reached Jerry Opalack for three singles in the second inning, and an error also figured in the scoring, as seven batters went to the plate.

Joel Smiley led off the inning with a single, but was erased attempting to stretch it to a double.

GARY KLINE however, walked, and Jack Plask was safe on an error.

Mervin Piersol skied out, but Dave Berkey singled to score both Kline and Plask, then stole second, and was in position to score when Barth aided his own cause with a sharp single.

The Wildcats threatened to continue their runmaking in the third, when Pete Stanson led off with a single and was wild - pitched to second. He moved to third on a passed ball, but was thrown out attempting to steal home.

At this point Ron Hallman took over on the mount for the Trojans, and though he surrendered an additional single to Smiley in the inning, escaped further damage.

Aubrey Henry walked, pushing Opalack to second, and the Trojan then pilfered third, and rode home on Pete Mauger's single.

Henry was tossed out also attempting to reach third, but a single by Bob Yeager followed, and the Trojans had the tying run on second base when Barry Swartz skied out to end the inning.

Barth had another shaky inning in the seventh, but proved he was in command of the situation when he got Yeager to bounce to the mound for the final out with runners on first and second.

Barth allowed seven hits over the route, and passed three, but struck out six, and benefited from a double play in the third. The Trojans stranded eight base runners.

Hansen's Run-Scoring Single Nets Orioles 8-7 Win Over Angels in 13

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ron Hansen drove in four runs, two of them with a game-winning single in the 13th inning, as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Los Angeles Angels 8-7 Thursday night.

Hansen had slammed a two-run homer in the ninth when the Orioles came from three runs behind to put the game into extra innings.

Gus Triandos also hit a two-run homer for Baltimore and Ted Kluszewski's was his seventh of the season and his fifth in four games against Baltimore.

Ken Hunt led off the Angel 13th with his second major league homer but relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, who went the last five innings for the Orioles, escaped without further damage and picked up the victory. He is 4-0.

Fifteen home runs were hit in the three-game series, eight by the Orioles. Hansen got his decisive single off reliever Ned Garver after Jim Gentile walked to open the 13th and Triandos hit his second double of the night. Garver suffered his second loss in two decisions.

St. Gabriel's Seeks Shuffle Crown Tonight

St. Gabriel's I bids for its fourth straight Pottstown Shuffleboard league crown tonight, in the showdown round against the Moose at the Orioles' home.

St. Gabriel's enters the night's action requiring but a single point to close out the best of 15 point series.

The American league and defending champs hold a 7-3 margin over the Moose, National League kingpins, on the strength of a 3-2 win in the opening set, and a 4-1 decision last Monday.

The Moose must win all five games tonight to avert elimination. Of course, in so doing, they could win the crown.

Trojan Golfers Drop 2d In Row

Pottstown High's golf team was the victim of the unbeaten Conestoga squad by a 10½-4½ score at Brookside. The Pioneers took two of the five matches by shutout scores. It was the second loss in a row for the homesters.

Don Mohaney blanked Pottstown's Will O'Dell 3-0, and Dean Hokanson took the measure of the Trojan's Jim Mackey by the same score.

Best performer for the locals was Judy Maute who won over Conestoga's Bob Estill 2½-½. Miss Maute played well on the greens to cop the win over the long ball hitting Estill.

Jim Owens Tells Phils He'll Soon Be In Condition

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitcher Jim Owens, who left the Philadelphia Phillies training camp at Clearwater, Fla., may be ready in "three or four days' to talk to the club.

Owens has been working out the past couple of weeks at his home in Midland, Pa. "They (The Phillies) told me that when I worked myself into condition to contact them," he said Thursday.

General Manager John Quinn of the Phillies, reached at his Philadelphia home, said the future of the 27-year-old righthander, was in somewhat nebulous stage at present.

"We told him that when he felt that he was in condition he should let us know," Quinn said. "We will then notify other National league clubs if they so desire they can send a scout, or somebody, to take a look at him while he is working out."

Are the Phillies considering taking him back, or do they wish to sell his contract?

"We'll cross that bridge when we get to it," Quinn replied.

Powerboat Head Says Harmsworth Race Will Go Off On Day Scheduled

TORONTO, (AP) — The chairman of the Harmsworth committee in Canada says the powerboat race still will be held Aug. 5-8 at Picton, Ont., despite a complaint that it is scheduled at the same time as a big-money event in the United States.

Commodore R.A. Finlayson, also executive director of the Canadian Boating federation, said Canada will win by default if no American competitor appears because the U. S. issued a challenge in December, 1960.

The Harmsworth, won the last two years by Miss Supertest III, of Canada, is International powerboating's most prized trophy.

Commodore Finlayson was commenting on a statement in Detroit Tuesday by Lee Schoenith, expected to be chosen by the Yachtsmen's Association of America to enter his Gale VI against Miss Supertest.

SCHOENITH SAID the Seattle Seafair Regatta—carrying $40,000 in prize, appearance and qualifying money—conflicts with the Harmsworth race. It will be held Aug. 6.

"Americans can't afford to pass up the Seattle race to spend thousands of dollars on the Harmsworth, which carries only prestige," he said.

Commodore Finlayson said arrangements are well under way for the Harmsworth to be held in August, but tempered his statement on default by saying:

"If it comes down to a point, we don't want to keep the trophy because of a lack of competition. We would prefer to compete for it, and then keep it."

He said, however, that the YAA has not indicated it was withdrawing the challenge or wanted a change in the date, which was agreed upon by the Harmsworth trustees' representative for North America, Mel Crook, New York.

"It didn't matter what date we set," Commodore Finlayson said, "it was bound to conflict with the unlimited hydroplane races in the States."

He said one reason the present date was chosen was to give any Harmsworth entrant from the U. S. time to transport his boat to Reno, Nev., for the Gold Cup, the main powerboat race in the U. S., held three weeks after the Seattle regatta.

He said he also felt the three were noting and giving consideration to every request made by the boat owners.

Phils' Beer Sale Bill Not Dead Yet in House

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill to permit sale of beer at Philadelphia Phillies baseball games was revived Thursday in the House.

It had been defeated Wednesday, 77-118. However, it had recieved up to 103 votes before 26 assemblymen switched to the negative side when it became obvious the bill wasn't going to get the 106 votes needed for passage.

Under House rules, a defeated bill may be revived once.

House majority leader Stephen McCann formally moved for reconsideration of the measure. This is a routine procedure to place the bill back on the House agenda. A vote on the bill itself is expected next week.

JAY ONE-HITS PHILS, BESTS ART MAHAFFEY

Redlegs Grab Fifth Win In Row, 1st by Shutout

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds shut out the Philadelphia Phils 4-0 Thursday night with Joey Jay (1-3) giving up only one hit and one walk.

Amaro was put out when losing pitcher Art Mahaffey (2-2) hit into a double play and after that no more Phillies reached base.

When Amaro came to bat again in the last inning, the ball slipped from Jay's hand and almost hit him. Freddie Hutchinson, the Reds' manager was tossed out of the game for protesting that Jay had not tried to hit Amaro. Amaro struck out.

Jay gave up 14 hits in 18 innings on the mound during three games, but the Reds failed to back him up with a single run in that time.

Thursday night, they made up for it.

Don Blasingame, the Reds' new leadoff batter, opened the proceedings with a single and advanced to third on a passed ball and Vada Pinson's luckless clout to Bob Malkmus.

Gus Bell's sacrifice fly scored Blasingame and the next man up, Frank Robinson, began his circuit of the bases with a slow roller toward third. He came home on Gordie Coleman's double.

In the third inning, Coleman knocked out a two-run single, scoring Gus Bell and Frank Robinson who had gone on base with a walk and a double, respectively.

Mahaffey, who last month struck out 17 Chicago Cubs in one game, performed the same service for six Reds Thursday night.

Cooper In Line For Title Shot

LONDON, (AP) — Jim Wicks, the manager of Henry Cooper, said Thursday he would meet with representatives of Championship Sports Incorporated, in the middle of this month to discuss a heavyweight title match between the British boxer and World champion Floyd Patterson.

Wicks said Tom Bolan, president of CSI, had cabled him asking for a meeting in a few weeks. He said they would meet either in London or Switzerland and would set a definite date as soon as possible.

The promoters said recently that Patterson probably would defend his title in September against Cooper or Eddie Machen, of Portland, Ore.

BLAZERS BOW IN 6-3 CLASH

Twin Valley Eliminates Boone From Title Picture

Twin Valley's Raiders scored five times in the first inning Thursday, and went on to a 6-3 Berks scholastic conference victory over Daniel Boone at Amity.

The loss eliminated the Blazers — who started fast but had slumped of late—from title consideration. Coach Bob Illig's charges had a mathematical chance for the crown until Thursday.

BOB HERTZLER then waited out Rupert for another pass, Joe Fry singled home Kerr, and Linderman was safe on an error. Bob Thomas then banged a bases-clearing triple for the early margin.

The Blazers scrapped back for two runs in the second as Lowell Levelgood and Bob Davis singled, and Paul Petrillo doubled both to the plate.

John Hartline walked and Vic Tucci tripled for a fifth-inning run that cut the margin to 5-3, but the Raiders put the game out of reach with an insurance tally in the sixth.

Houck Hurls, Bats Bear Win Over W. Chester 8-2

Boyertown's Bears got the most mileage out of righthander Ron Houck Thursday, as they scored eight times in the fourth inning for an 8-2 triumph over West Chester on the winners' lot.

Houck pitched a near-flawless four-hitter to take the mound decision, then capped the eight-run uprising with a three-run homer to assure the triumph. He fanned seven.

MILLER WAS tossed out attempting a theft, but Jay Levine doubled and scored on Carl Houp's error on the relay.

Houck settled down from that point however, and held the Warriors scoreless. He was also airtight as far as the Annie Oakleys were concerned.

Meanwhile, the Bears were mustering their forces for their big push to come in the fourth inning.

Bill Specht led off the inning with a double and rode home on Tim Schott's single. Bob Gross then unloaded a triple to plate Schott and the score was tied.

GORDON HOCH kept the rally alive by walking and moved to second as Levine declined a throw with Gross on third.

Bob Bauer delivered Hoch with a single and stole second, and both Hoch and Bauer scored on Egolf's following single.

Egolf promptly stole second, Houp walked and Houck followed with his home run, sending Miller to the outfield, Bob Cummings came on and retired the Bears without further damage.

The loss was the second in as many days for West Chester, who succumbed to Downingtown, 9-1 just Wednesday.

Bearettes Thump Trojanettes 11-2

Boyertown High School's softball team made the most of nine hits and knocked off Pottstown to the tune of 11-2 Thursday on the winners' diamond.

Helen Shaner — who socked a homer and single in three trips —was the top hitter in the easy Boyertown win. Mary Oxenford — who allowed only two hits while gaining the mound verdict — also had a pair of hits for the winners.

British Officials Urge Adoption of Race Saliva Test

LONDON, (AP) — British horse racing officials, usually slow to make changes, may adopt the American system of testing race winners for signs of doping.

A special committee, set up after a wave of doping scandals last Summer, recommended Thursday that saliva tests be made routine at every race meet. It also suggested that trainers be banned from giving their horses medicine for 72 hours before a race.

Chairman of the committee is the Duke of Norfolk, one of the owners whose horses were victims of doping gangs. Two of the duke's horses started as favorites, ran badly and were found to have been doped.

The report was made to the Jockey club and to the National Hunt committee, which administers steeplechasing.

The committee urged that at least two winning horses at every race meet be given saliva and urine tests—and blood tests, too, if their owners consented.

HEBERT LEADS NEVADA GOLF

Six-Under-Par 66 Earns Jay Top Spot In 1st Round

LAS VEGAS, Nev., (AP)—Whipping par by six strokes despite a stiff wind, rugged Jay Hebert led the way through the first round of the $52,000 Tournament of Champions Thursday with a 66.

The 38 year old Lafayette, La., professional, one of the most eligible bachelors in golf, toured the 7000-yard, par 36-36—72 Desert Inn country club course in 33-33—66.

Two eagles and three birdies decorated Hebert's card and gave him a one-stroke lead over the select field of 26 in this ninth annual Desert golf show.

Tied at 67 were Tommy Bolt, Doug Ford and Julius Boros, while 48 year old Sam Snead got into the swing of things with a sparkling 68 and a tie with Billy Casper Jr.

THE PLAYERS not only competed with one another but also with wind gusts up to 40 M.P.H.

The initial round of the 72-hole quest for the $10,000 top money was played in weather alternately blustery and dead calm, sunny and a little cloudy, as more than 6000 turned out for the competition.

Hard luck man of the day was another former winner here, Mike Souchak, who had 38-35—74. He went from 3-under par to 3-over par on the first nine holes. Two dangerous water holes and a treacherous trap contributed to two bogeys and two double bogeys.

EMMANUEL PLAYERS

Members of Emmanuel Lutheran church and Sunday School interested in playing baseball are urged to contact Dick Hatfield at FAculty 3-7375 not later than Sunday.

St. Pius Golfers Topple McDevitt For League Win

St. Pius X veteran golfers opened their 1961 Suburban Catholic league campaign with a 10½-7½ victory over Bishop McDevitt of Wyncote, the hard way—on the North Hills country club course.

The Saints were beaten in only two matches, and mustered at least half a point in each match.

Bob Smale defeated Joe Kennedy 2-1 to set the pattern for the afternoon, though Mike Rowland — playing No. 2—was tied by Dick Diehl, 1½-1½ in the second.

The homesters went ahead when John Stickler topped the Saints' Gerry McGinley 2½-½, but Dave Psota put the winners back on top with a 3-0 win over John Kelly in No. 4.

The match continued to see-saw however, as Bill Dalton of McDevitt topped Dave Czarick 2-1, and it was only on the final match, when Tom Meade topped Tim Leiter of McDevitt, 2½-½, that the match was decided.

GIANTS ROCK CUBS 9-3 ON 5-RUN FRAME

Cepeda's 3-RBI Showing Paces SF's 11-Hit Assault

CHICAGO (AP)—The first-place San Francisco Giants popped their biggest inning of the season, a five-run sixth, and scored another come-from-behind victory 9-3 over the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

The winner was Sam Jones, who survived a rocky first in which the Cubs moved ahead 3-0. He scattered five hits and struck out eight for his third victory against one defeat.

Jones allowed only two hits after the first inning.

Orlando Cepeda drove across three runs, two on a bases-loaded single in the sixth, to pace the Giant attack which for the first time in five games failed to include a homer. The Giants hammered 15 homers in four previous games, one shy of the major league record.

Starter Glen Hobbie, first of three Cub hurlers, was the loser—quitting in the big sixth.

Willie Mays and Jim Davenport each banged three hits in the Giants' 11-blow attack. Mays' third single scored the final run in the ninth off the last Cub pitcher, Mel Wright.

Wednesday, the Giants also erased an early Cub lead, trailing at one time 3-1.

After allowing only one run, that unearned, and three hits the first five innings, Hobbie's sixth start of the season collapsed into his third setback in a five-run inning.

The sixth-inning attack which pushed the Giants ahead 6-3 included two-run singles by Cepeda and Ed Bailey, three walks and a Cub error.

Reliever Joe Schaffernoth came in, with none out, after Cepeda's single put San Francisco ahead 4-3. A walk loaded the bases again and Bailey spanked his two-run single. But Schaffernoth then got out of the jam when Jose Pagan's strikeout was converted into a double play and Jones took a third strike.

The Giants made it 8-3 with a pair of unearned runs in the seventh. Davenport got his third hit, a leadoff fly which dropped for a triple between Don Zimmer and Billy Williams in short right. Chuck Hiller's bounder was bobbled by Banks, scoring Davenport, and Hiller talied on Cepeda's double.

Adcock's Grand Slam HR Downs LA Dodgers, 10-6

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Adcock's home run with the bases loaded in the last of the 10th inning Thursday brought the Milwaukee Braves a 10-6 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, a team they had to catch all afternoon.

Adcock hit a 1-0 pitch off rookie Joe Golden for his second round-tripper of the year after the Braves had tied the score 6-6 in the inning. Los Angeles, which led 4-2 in the eighth inning, 5-4 going into the last of the ninth and 6-5 in the 10th, thus lost the series to the Braves 2-1.

Adcock who had gone hitless in four previous times at bat, and had left six men on base, got the eighth grand slam of his career, tieing Ernie Banks of Chicago and Stan Musial of St. Louis for second place among active National League players.

Golden, who had beaten the Braves in relief two nights ago, lost his first.

Carl Willey won, despite the fact that in his only inning, the 10th, he pitched a home run to Gil Hodges which gave the Dodgers their last lead. It was No. 354 for Hodges, 11th on the all-time major league list.

The victory moved the Braves ahead of the Dodgers into third place in the National League race.

Don Drysdale held a 4-1 lead and appeared headed for his third triumph when the Braves rallied to tie with three runs in the seventh and eighth.

The Braves scored first, getting an unearned run in the second but the Dodgers went ahead with two runs in the fourth, added a third tally in the fifth and made it 4-1 in the seventh on John Roseboro's fifth homer.

Eddie Mathews singled home a run for the Braves in the seventh and Lee Maye tied the score with a two-run single off reliever Larry Sherry in the eighth.

The Braves again bounced back to tie when Henry Arron tripled off Sandy Koufax and scored on Roy McMillan's sacrifice fly off Golden.

Dodgers Peddle Demeter, Smith For Phils' Pair

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday traded Infielder Charlie Smith and Outfielder Don Demeter to Philadelphia for Relief Pitcher Dick Farrell and Infielder Joe Koppe.

Koppe will report to the Dodgers' Spokane, Wash., farm club in the Pacific Coast league.

Demeter is 25, Smith 23 and Farrell 27. Smith hit .322 at Spokane last year and is regarded as a very promising youngster.

He will be used at shortstop by the Phils. He played short at Spokane where he hit 20 home runs and had 106 runs batted in last year.

Demeter, a rangy and fast outfielder, had a great season with the Dodgers in the last half of the 1959 season, when they won the National league pennant and the World Series. He hit .274 last year and was out most of the season with a wrist fracture after colliding with Shortstop Maury Wills chasing a fly ball. He will be the Phils' center fielder.

Farrell was 10-6 with the Phils last year and had a 2.71 earned run average. He was credited with 15 additional saves and worked in 59 games. He is 6-4, weighs 220 and this is his sixth year in the majors.

Mantle's Homer Nets Yanks 5-2 Romp Over Twins; NY Picket Hits in 16th

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

MUSCLE MEN OF THE YANKS—Those two big muscle men for the Yanks, Bill Skowron (left) and Mickey Mantle, flash big smiles in Minneapolis after they had combined to crush the Twins. Mantle leads both the home run race and the RBI division in the A.L.

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Mickey Mantle upped his American League lead in both home runs and runs batted in Thursday in helping the New York Yankees to a 5-2 victory over the faltering Minnesota Twins.

Mantle, hitting in his 16th consecutive game, had two RBI on the homer and a first inning single as the Yanks swept the three-game series and handed Minnesota its sixth loss in seven games.

Whitey Ford, who retired after the sixth inning because of a cold and sore legs, got the victory, his fourth in five decisions after allowing both Minnesota runs and only five hits.

Jim Kaat, victim of a three-run Yankee first inning was the loser. Ted Sadowski took over for him in the second and held the Yanks hitless until Mantle hit his ninth homer with none on in the sixth inning. Paul Giel finished up.

Bobby Richardson and Hector Lopez each walked in the first inning, and Mantle singled home Richardson. Lopez went on to third on the hit and scored as Bill Skowron grounded out. With Mantle on second, Elston Howard singled driving in the third run.

The Twins came alive in the fifth, pushing two runs over on a double by Lenny Green and a single by Harmon Killebrew after Reno Bertoia had walked.

Neider, Olympic Champ, To Make Philly Ring Debut

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Neider, Olympic shot put champion, is slated to make his professional boxing debut here on May 15, on a card topped by the Joey Giardello - Wilfie Greaves middleweight windup.

The 6-foot-3, 215 pound Neider arrived here Tuesday from Los Angeles and went into training for his yet unnamed opponent. He'd been working out previously on the West Coast.

Whether Neider can fight remains to be seen since he hasn't fought in competition in some seven years. He once ran up a streak of six straight knockouts as an amateur in Kansas.

Peter Gruen of Philadelphia and W. G. Johnson of Beverly, Calif., apparently believe the record tossing shot putter has a bright future in the ring. The two are paying Neider $200 a week and all training, travel and equipment expenses.

Gruen describes himself as an importer and exporter of art objects; Johnson as a financier, underwriter and advisor in the field of missiles and aircraft. They plan to hire a full time trainer and already have Neider under a long term contract.

Dan Ferguson's Hitting Leads Rams to 12-4 Win

PHOENIXVILLE — Spring-Ford's Rams took advantage of Dan Ferguson's hefty hitting and a leaky Phoenixville defense to score 10 in the first three innings enroute to a 12-4 Ches-Mont league win here Thursday.

Ferguson pounded Phoenixville starter John Hopple for a double in the first inning and a three-run homer in the second, collecting four RBI in the first two frames, highlight of a 13-hit Ram attack.

The Ram parade of batsmen made the pitching chore easy for Rich Brower, who went the route, experiencing difficulty only in the third inning, when the homesters scored three times.

The Rams opened up on Hopple when Nick Tuscai was hit by a pitch and Ed Mogel walked to open the game. Ferguson then banged his double to score Tuscai.

JOHN MILLER walked, loading the bases, and Harry Beltz ripped a liner into right that was bobbled by Larry Gubanich, and two more runs plated.

The Phantoms got a run back in the home first, but the Phantoms continued to pound Hopple in the second.

Tuscai walked, Mogel was safe on an error and Brower aided his own cause with an RBI single before Ferguson performed his janitorial duties on the bases with a three-run homer.

The third-inning burst—which spelled the end for Hopple—started when Beltz singled and stole second, romping home on Denny Faust's single. Tuscai doubled Faust home.

MOGEL SINGLED and both scored when Brower hit into a fielder's choice.

John Bilash relieved Hopple, but the Rams continued their scoring, mustering a run in each of the next two innings. Only in the seventh did Bilash escape unscathed.

Phoenixville managed but three hits off Brower, but two were run-scoring doubles by Henry Devlin, the Phantom first sacker.

SEBASTIAN GUILTY AGAIN

Dentist Convicted 2d Time of Bribe Attempts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. Edward H. Sebastian, 33, a dentist from nearby Stowe township, was found guilty Thursday on charges of attempting to bribe two University of Pittsburgh basketball players.

An Allegheny county criminal court jury convicted the former instructor in the Pitt Dental school on two counts of bribery of an athletic contest.

Defense Attorney Louis C. Glasso requested a pre-sentence investigation but said he did not plan to appeal.

THE MAXIMUM sentence is 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each count.

He was accused of approaching John Fridley of Sharon, Pa., and Dick Falenski of Latrobe, Pa., in 1959 to try to get them to shave points in Pitt games.

The two players, both Seniors, testified earlier in the trial that the dentist offered them guarantees of admittance to dental school, scholarships and money. Fridley also said Dr. Sebastian offered to split his winnings with them.

Dr. Sebastian claimed the players had tried to use him to get into dental school. Glasso argued the players told the bride story because they were afraid the dentist would reveal their own misconducts.

It was the second trial for Dr. Sebastian. He had been convicted last Sept. 30 on similar charges in a non-jury trial, but was granted a new trial.

Rained Out Race Bill 'On' Tonight At Williams Oval

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — "They'll be off and running — weather permitting" at 8 o'clock tonight on the Williams Grove Speedway.

Last week's rained out modified (open competition) stock car races, second in the season-long weekly series, has been rescheduled for Bob Richwine's half-mile racing plant tonight.

Leroy Folty, Lebanon auto mechanic, winner of the first 25-lap stock car feature race on the inaugural program on April 21, will have to look to his laurels if he hopes for another victory.

He'll be up against Dick (Tobby) Tobias, of Lebanon, who scored in last Sunday's main event at Susquehanna Speedway, and Don Kimberling of Tyrone, who captured the main event last Saturday night at Port Royal Speedway.

Both Susquehanna and Port Royal are on the three-track circuit which includes the Williams Grove Speedway, making possible an interchange of drivers between all three racing plants.

Felty is the current point leader with 315 markers to his credit, but he'll also have to contend with "Joltin' Johnny" Mackison, of Delta, a close runner-up to the Lebanon speed merchant in their first outing, a hard-riding chauffer anxious to overhaul Felty and move into the point standing lead.

TIGERS BELT NATS 6-0 TO RETAIN LEAD

Mossi Loses No-Hit Bid In 7th, On Green Single

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don Mossi set the Washington Senators down on two hits Thursday night, shutting them out, 6-0, and thus keeping the Detroit Tigers in a first-place tie with the New York Yankees.

And with two out in the ninth, Willie Tasby whistled one into left field.

Four other Senators reached base, three on walks and one on an error. Only one got as far as second base. Danny O'Connell, who walked in the sixth, moved up one base when Mossi balked.

R.C. Stevens walked to lead off the second inning, but Mossi retired the next 13 batters, until Coot Veal walked to lead off the sixth. Veal was cut down stealing.

Second baseman Jake Wood bobbled Harry Bright's ground ball to put the lead-off batter on base in the eighth, but he was erased by a double play.

Mossi struck out five. He has a 3-0 record in this, his eighth season of major league ball. He was 9-8 with the Tigers last year, but suffered an arm injury and called it a season in late August. His best year was 1959, when he won 17 and lost nine.

Al Kaline, Norm Cash and Steve Boros each got two hits in Detroit's 10-hit attack off three Washington pitchers. Kaline and Bill Bruton contributed triples.

Saints Sign Gunther, Eastern League Star

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — The signing of Dave Gunther, former University of Iowa Star, was announced Thursday by the San Francisco Saints of the American Basketball league.

Gunther was rookie of the year last season with Allentown, Pa., in the Eastern league. He is 6-6 weighs 210 pounds and averaged more than 20 points a game with Allentown said Kevin O'Shea, Saints general manager.

Raybold Allows 2-Hits; Blanks Jenkintown 4-0

Bob Raybold hurled a masterful two-hitter, and his teammates scored three runs in the seventh inning to lead Pottsgrove to a 4-0 win over Jenkintown.

The righthanded hurler racked up 15 strikeouts in the Inter County duel. Jenkintown's Chuck Harrara although giving up eight hits kept the game tight, blanking the Falcons from the first to the seventh stanzas.

Mike La Hoda poled a three bagger to start the game but was thrown out when Roger Raspen grounded to the mound. Hurst then delivered a double that sent Raspen across home plate.

RALBOLD AND Harrar took over from the second to the seventh and breezed through the hitters with little trouble. The Pottsgrove bats came to life in the top of the seventh.

Hurst again was the thorn in the side to the Jenkintown nine. He began the rally with a single. Bill Logan followed and while he was at the plate Hurst stole second. Logan came through with a single to score the hustling Hurst.

Dave Rumler kept the threat alive poking a double with Logan holding up at third. The fleet Logan then scored Pottsgrove's third run as he stole home. Rumler moved over to third on the steal, Raybold aided his own cause with a single that plated Rumler with the final run.

US Open Berths Will Be Scarce

NEW YORK, (AP)—The odds are 20-1 that if you entered the United States Open golf tourney you will not make it to Birmingham, Mich., where the successor to Arnold Palmer will be decided on the Oakland Hills country club, June 15-17.

Those odds became apparent Thursday when the United States Golf association said a record number of 2460 applications had been accepted for the 150-man field that will converge on the district suburb next month.

THE HUGE entry list is even more than the previous high of 2453 set a year ago when the Open was decided at Denver. Joseph C. Dey Jr., executive director of the USGA, said approximately 75 more entries were declined because they were received after Wednesdoay night's deadline.

The list includes the names of 18 winners of the PGA crown, 13 who previously won the Open, 6 who have triumphed in the British Open and three amateurs who need not qualify.

Fifteen Officially Entered in 'Derby' Tomorrow

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP) — Fifteen horses, registered by owners from nine States and Canada, were entered officially Thursday for the 87th Kentucky derby and the track oddsmaker says two Florida colts are the ones to beat.

They are Mrs. Jack Price's Carry Back, the 5-2 favorite, and Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, next in line at 3-1. Mrs. Price and Trainer-Husband Jack transplanted from Cleveland to Miami. Hooper has a farm near Montgomery, Ala., lives in Coral Gables, Fla.

The $125,000-added Derby, the mile and one quarter glamour gallop of American racing, will be run Saturday at sprawling Churchill Downs.

They started the Derby business at this layout within Louisville's city limits on May 17, 1875, when Aristides won the magnificent sum of $2850.

IF ALL 15 go Saturday, the pot will gross $163,000 and the winning owner will go into the rose-bordered horseshoe to stash away $120,500 and a $5000 gold cup which may be used for sipping mint juleps.

Carry Back has been the most consistent of a very inconsistent bunch of 3-year-olds. They have been beating each other like brothers in a 15-boy family.

So, that makes it all the more interesting. Carry Back won the two Florida $100,000 races for Sophomores—Hialeah's Flamingo and Gulfstream's Florida derby.

Crozier, who finished second in those races with only a head separating them, popped into the Louisville limelight when he broke the track record in Tuesday's Derby trial.

However, there are 13 others who will have something to say about what you'll be reading in the Sunday morning papers.

CANADA'S HOPES rest with a two-ply entry, Four-And-Twenty and Flutterby, third choice at 5-1. They are owned by Max Bell of Calgary, Alberta, and Frank McMahon of Vancouver, and neither colt was bred in the Dominion. Four-And-Twenty, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita derby, is a Kentiucky colt, while Flutterby was bred in California.

Others going for the roses are Sherluck, owned by Jacob Sher of Miami, Emil A. Dust's Dearborn, Chicago; J. Graham Brown's On His Metal, Louisville; Loyal Son from the Eastwood stable of James Matia and Richard Bittner, Grafton Ohio; Ronnie's Ace, William Radkovich, Alhambra, Calif., and Wilbur Clark, Las Vegas, Nev; Jay Fox, James McCue, Greenwich, Conn; Globemaster, Leonard P. Sasso, Pittsburgh; Bass Clef, Mrs. Vera S. Smith, Lapeer, Mich.; Ambipoise, Robert Lehman, New York; Light Talk, from the Jacnot stable of O. T. Hogan and Son Jack, Wadsworth, Ill.; and Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller, New York.

Sherluck, with Eddie Arcaro seeking his sixth Derby victory, is a 6-1 choice after his 6 lengths score over Flutterby in the Blue Grass stakes at Keeneland last week. The Derby will be run Saturday, so sixes might be considered.

Ambipoise won the Gotham stakes at Aqueduct by 6 lengths from Globehmaster, then finished third in the Wood Memorial won by Globemaster. Carry Back was second by 3¼ lengths, and it was six more lengths back to Ambipoise. Is this derby confusing?

Crozier, who finished fourth—six lengths behind Four-And-Twenty in Keeneland's Forerunner purse April 21—was clocked in a record 1:34 3/5 mile in Tuesday's derby trial. Four-And-Twenty was beaten 3¼ lengths. Dr. Miller ran third. He is listed at 10-1 for Saturday.

Globemaster is 12-1, Ambipoise is 15-1. The others may ne in boxcar figures on the parimutuel board when the massed bands strike up "My Old Kentucky Home" and the tears start dripping into the juleps.

The riders shouldn't be overlooked, at least the top ones. Johnny Sellers, who leads the Nation in wins, handled Carry Back. Braulio Baeza copped the Blue Grass with Sherluck, but is contracted to pilot Crozier. That gave Arcaro his 21st Derby mount.

Errant Return to Mound Fretted Rookie Ump Most

CHICAGO (AP) — Al Forman, 32, is in his first season as a baseball umpire in the National league.

He is one of the few arbiters to reach the major league without experience in the triple-A minor. Forman made the jump from the double-A Texas league.

What was foremost in his mind when he worked his first major league game?

"I wasn't afraid of anything — I have a lot of confidence in myself," Forman said in an interview. "I knew I was equipped to handle any situation. I had laid in bed at nights thinking up all the possible situations an umpire must face, and I had answers for them all.

"No, what was uppermost in my mind was this: When I returned a new ball to the pitcher, I thought I might throw it over his head.

"That may sound silly, but it actually worried me. Any change I'd get, I put a new ball in play by handing it to the catcher. But then, the catcher would rough the ball up. It was taking too much time, so I started throwing in the ball more and more. Haven't thrown it into center field yet.

"Whey my first turn came to work behind the plate," Forman continued, "Augie Donatelli (a veteran umpire) put his arm around me and said: "That plate is the same size as it is in the minors. The batters take the same swing. The big thing is the pitching—it's sharp, and it can come at you from everywhere.'

"My first impression was that baseball up here in the majors means perfection. Everything is done mechanically, like it's supposed to be done."

FORMAN SAID the only real argument he has been faced with so far came 10 days ago in Pittsburgh when Milwaukee's Roy McMillan overslid third on a sacrifice and was tagged before reaching his hand back to the bag.

"It was close, but I was right and called him out," said Forman, a strapping 190-pounder. "Roy started arguing. I just walked away. He had kept following me after I'd told him not to, he could have been ejected from the game.

"Once I make a decision, and if a manager or player wants to stand there and bellow at me, I just keep quiet. The less you say to them the better. Anything you might say might incite them more, or at least give them more food for thought.

"I am paid not to be excited. Our umpiring code is: "Quick to think, slow to anger'."

San Juan's Fate In Minor League Remains In Doubt

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The fate of the San Juan, Puerto Rico, franchise in the International league will be decided at a special meeting of the league's board of directors in New York City Friday, president Tommy Richardson said Thursday night.

Richardson said Charleston, W. Va., probably will get the franchise if the directors decide to pull the team out of San Juan, where attendance has been low and transportation costs high. Montreal also has been mentioned as a possible new site of the former Miami club.

"We must take action," Richardson said. "If we're going to move the franchise it must be done now."

He pointed out that San Juan, now on a road trip, is scheduled for a long home stand beginning May 12.

* * *

RICHARDSON, who had said Wednesday in Buffalo that the league's directors had unanimously agreed the franchise must be moved, indicated the action was not yet final. He said only that there was "strong sentiment" against continuing in San Juan because of the high transportation costs and small attendance there.

Earlier Thursday in San Juan, Joe Ryan, general manager of the Marlins, had said he thought Richardson's announcement in Buffalo Wednesday was premature.

"There has not been sufficient time to know whether or not Puerto Rico is ready for triple A baseball," Ryan said.

George Weaver, Marlins' business manager, said he felt any announcement regarding a franchise shift should come from the club, and not from the league.

Attendance at San Juan has been disappointing. The principal reason is that International league prices are too high for the average Puerto Rican fan.

Figure Skating Group Planning A Memorial Fund

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States figures skating association, still reeling from the shock of the tragic plane crash in February in which 34 skaters, coaches, officials and friends of the U.S. World team were killed, started Thursday to reorganize for the future.

F. Ritter Shumway, of Rochester, N. Y., the acting president since the death of Howard Herbert, called upon the organization to carry on the traditions of those who have gone.

Shumway suggested further consideration by the executive committee before it determines the form that a memorial to the 1961 World team should take.

Henry Beatty of Menlo Park, Calif., has been named chairman of a five-man committee to work on the memorial fund. Other members are Harry Keighley of Evanston, Ill., Kendall Kelley of Cleveland, Kenneth Brown of Berkeley, Calif., and Carl Gram Jr., of New York, treasurer of the USFSA.

Shumway announced the election of Beatty as the U.S. representative to the International Skating union by a mail vote. He succeeds Walter Powell who was killed in the plane crash. Beatty will attend the ISU congress in Bergen, Norway, in June.

Shumway also reported that he already had preliminary discussions about televising the National championships in 1962.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W
One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lutheran Women Scan Role Of Churchmen In Changing Nation

"The Lutheran Churchman's Role in a Changing America" was the subject of discussion in each of the six circle meetings of the United Lutheran Church women of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church of Boyertown this week.

The Esther circle met at the home of their leader, Mary Ritter. Those present were: Mrs. Daniel Bause Jr., Mrs. Helen Dillon, Mrs. Morris Johnson, Mrs. Sallie Noble, Mrs. Harry Strause, Mrs. Clyde Wert, and the hostess.

This circle is in charge of all socials pertaining to the ULCW. Plans were made for a covered-dish social at the church on June 5 at 6:30 p. m., preceding the general meeting of the organization. The United Lutheran Churchmen's group is invited to participate in this meeting.

Mrs. Willard Grubb was hostess in her home for the Ruth circle meeting which is under the supervision of Mrs. Norman Moyer and Mrs. George Peterman. During the month of May all members of the circle plan to attend the various special events in the church, to serve as choir mothers. The group has charge of the catechumen gowns and the children's choir gowns.

MEMBERS ATTENDING were: Mrs. Abner Clemmer, Mrs. Elwood Fox, Mrs. Warren Hutt, Mrs. Vinton Kulp, Mrs. Norman Moyer and Mrs. Henry Stark.

Meeting at the parsonage, as guests of Mrs. Fred S. Blank, wife of the pastor, the Dorcas circle began its plans for serving the refreshments at the Summer Bible School sessions.

This circle, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Albright and Mrs. Frank Dill, has charge of the church nursery during the Sunday 10:15 a. m. services. During May, the following schedule has been arranged: Sunday, Mrs. John Renninger and Mrs. Ray Schanley, aided by Priscilla Landis and Gloria Jean Mauger; May 14, Mrs. Grant Moser and Mrs. Charles Albright; May 21, Mrs. Ray Schanley and Mrs. Allan Haldeman, assisted by Mary Jane Hutt and Jane Mest; May 28, Mrs. Wayne Frey and Mrs. Frank Dill, assisted by Linda Updegrove and Anita Hollowbush. For the special evening services on May 7 and May 28, members of the circle will also assist in the nursery.

Present at the parsonage to hear Mrs. Dill present the topic were: Mrs. Charles Albright, Mrs. Blank, Cora Davidheiser, Mrs. Wayne Frey, Mrs. Allan Haldeman, Mrs. James Krause, Mrs. Grant Moser, Mrs. John Renninger, Mrs. Ray Schanley and Mrs. Clarence Swenk.

Mrs. Luther Schmoyer conducted the Hannah circle meeting at the church at which time Esther Renninger led the topic discussion. Reports were made that the Inner Mission Roll call, in charge of the circle, had been successfully completed. Plans were formulated for a final meeting in June, at the Schmoyer's farm.

ATTENDING WERE: Mrs. Edwin Eisenhart, Mrs. George Reigner, Mrs. Samuel Horn, Mrs. Clyde Angstadt, Mrs. Alice Thomas, Mrs. Charles Updegrove, Mrs. Fred Fisher, Mrs. Clarence Yerger, Esther Renninger, Mrs. Linwood Renninger, Mrs. Lloyd Renninger and Mrs. Luther Schmoyer.

The Deborah circle met at the home of Mrs. Winfield West with the program in charge of Mrs. William Moeller. The projects assigned to the circle the past year have been completed. They include: making layettes for the Lutheran World Relief, packing cheer baskets for the needy, and conducting the Spring and Fall clothing drives for Lutheran World Relief.

Chigialo-Weinstager Engagement Announced

The engagement of Dorothea Chigialo, Spring City, to Ralph Weinsteiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weinsteiger, Bechtelsville RD 1, was recently announced.

Miss Chigialo is presently employed at Lansdale Tube company, and her fiance is an employe of the Superior Tube company, Collegeville.

No wedding date has been set.

Phyllis Stark Honored at Shower

Phyllis Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stark, 130 Schaeffer street, was feted a bridal shower at the home of Mary Jane Weller, 644 Rhoads avenue.

Assisting as hostesses were the other bridal attendants Elli Holt, Kitty Reese and Judy Kuser.

Miss Stark will become the bride of William Rohrbach, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Conrad, May 27, in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown.

Seated beneath a white sprinkling can decorated with lavendar and white streamers, the guest of honor opened gifts brought by the following guests: Mrs. William Mellinger, Mrs. Vernon Kuser, Mrs. Henry Stark, Mrs. Charles Rhoads, Mrs. John Eddinger, Mrs. Franklin Eddinger, Mrs. Arthur Hilbert, Mrs. John Moyer, Mrs. John Moyer Jr., Mrs. Richard Reese, Mrs. Carlton Koons.

Also, Mrs. Fred Reinert, Mrs. Carl Tim, Mrs. Lester Dierolf, Mrs. Robert Erb, Mrs. John Herbert, Mrs. Harvey Weller, Carol Wilke, Judy Kuser, Martha Rhoads, Vicki Reese, Susan Moyer, Joan Kline, Jean Smith, Millie Hartman, Barbara Detweiler, and Lisa Rhoads.

Absentee gifts were sent by Mrs. James Peck and Mrs. Jacob Rhoads.

The event was concluded with the serving of a buffet luncheon.

PATROL TAKES DAY'S TRIP TO NEW YORK

Merchants' Donations Defray Cost of Junket

Thirty-six safety patrol members from the Washington and Lincoln Elementary schools in Boyertown, returned late Thursday evening from a day's sightseeing in New York City.

The group, with adult chaperons, left Boyertown early Thursday morning by chartered bus from town hall. Each year the safety patrols from both schools are rewarded for the services performed, with a patrol excursion. Arrangements were made by Chief of Police Henry E. Groff, originator of the trip.

Funds for financing the day's events were donated by a number of local businesses and industry.

School Concert Set for Today Is Canceled

Sydney Mollard, director of the Boyertown Area High school choral group, has announced that the choral concert scheduled for this evening has been cancelled.

The choral group has been very active within the past week. On Thursday evening pupils from both the Junior and Senior High school presented a program.

Groups that participated were the Senior High school concert choir, the Bruinettes the Junior High school mixed chorus and the Seventh grade chorus.

Girl Competes

Modern Manners

By CAROLYN HAGNER SHAW

YOU AND YOUR PHOTOGRAPHS

Giving one's photograph at any time is a matter that should be considered carefully. Except when presenting one to a husband or wife, a close relative or friend, it really isn't wise to offer your picture as a gift.

Unless specifically asked by someone else, keep that likeness of you under wraps!

In passing, a word to the fond parent! Naturally, to you, little Mary and Jimmie are unsurpassed in beauty and cuteness. But don't pass around their photographs to anyone but relatives or very close friends.

Little Jimmie taking his bath may be priceless to you, but a picture of him doing so is only something to add to the odds and ends in the bottom desk drawer when the snapshot is presented to the neighbor down the street!

Even when giving a photograph to a relative or friend, do not put it in a frame. In the close family circle it is all right to do so. Otherwise, by framing it, you put the recipient in the position of being more or less forced to display it.

It was quite the fashion years ago to exchange photographs with one's friends and acquaintances. Well do I remember my mother and her frantic efforts to have so-and-so's picture on the table because "so-and so" was coming to tea!

Finally mother solved her problem. She bought a leather folder, large enough to hold all the photographs she had received, and put the folder on the piano for all to go through, if they wished. In this way all were treated alike.

Another thing to be careful of when you present your photograph is the autograph you place upon it.

An inscription such as "To darling Sammy, with all my love," may, in future years, become an object of ridicule, not to mention acute embarrassment! This warning applies particularly to those who are young in heart — and years!

A bride should be careful not to infer that she will be hurt if the members of the bridal party do not purchase photographs of the wedding group.

She may do as she pleases, of course, but those who attend her also have the same prerogative. It is up to them whether or not they wish to buy any of the pictures.

QUESTION: I'm getting married next month and will have a matron of honor and two bridesmaids. Does a matron of honor have to have a partner?

MISS J.S.

ANSWER: The best man assumes this position. Your matron of honor precedes you down the church aisle to the altar, walking alone. After the ceremony, she returns up the aisle, following you and your bridegroom, and the best man is her partner.

Fire Company Graduates Second First Aid Class

Graduation exercises were held for the second group of the advanced first aid class at the Skippack fire house. Hiram Brey, vocalist, was accompanied by Evan Thomas in the singing of the opening hymn.

The pledge of Allegiance was lead by George Huguenin, Explorer Scout of Skippack post 21; the invocation was given by the Rev. Paul E. Dershem, pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ, Skippack; John B. Giacobbe, second vice president of the Skippack Ambulance association, congratulated the members of the class.

Mrs. Walter Huhn and Jack Greger of the Skippack Ambulance corps presented Robert Alderfer, first aid instructor from Lansdale Volunteer Medical service with a gift from the class after which Henry Virkler, captain, Skippack Ambulance corps, gave greetings to all present.

Mrs. Charles Black and Greger presented certificates to Mrs. Hiram Brey and Frank Boyer for their services to the corps and they were also made honorary members of the Skippack Ambulance corps; W. Bruce Beaton, vice president, Bridesburg Civic association, and John W. Gross, State director, International Rescue and First Aid association then spoke.

JOHN CUFF, first vice president, Skippack Ambulance association, welcomed Thomas Clarke, chairman of Disaster Service central, Montgomery County branch, who was the first instructor in first aid for the Skippack Ambulance corps. The Benediction was given by The Rev. Paul E. Dershem. Cuff served as mater of ceremonies for the affair.

Those in the graduating class were Mrs. Ralph Edwards, Mrs. Ann Bieber, Mr. James Holmes, Mrs. Walter Huhn, George Kerrigan, Norman Rapp, Whittlesey Searls, Robert Streeter, John Valerio, Samuel Virkler and Norman Yeager.

Refreshments were served to all present by the refreshment committee consisting of Hiram Brey and Mrs. Arnold Young. Chairman of the program committee for the affair was Michael Gelembuik, with Mr. John Cuff and Harry Holden as co-chairmen.

Mrs. Maggie Moyer entertained the following guests at a luncheon at her home: Mrs. Kathryn Adams of Royersford, Mrs. George Murray of Spring City, Mrs. William Nolthenius, Mrs. Harrison Moyer, Mrs. Carrie Ritter, Mrs. Henry Andes, Mrs. Jessie Lefever, Mrs. Leter Yarnall, Mrs. Harold Dillman and Mrs. Sara H. Dambly and grandson, Mark H. Dambly.

Mrs. Carrie Ritter was the weekend guest of Mrs. Cora Garges of Souderton.

Rotary Club Sees Film About State

"Pennsylvania — Keystone of the Nation" was the title of a film presented at the regular meeting of the Rotary club Thursday evening at Brookside Country club.

The film was shown by Willard Kline, manager of the Pottstown office of the Bell Telephone company and a member of the Rotary.

Herbert Maack, director of the club, announced the meeting next week will be ladies' night.

CUTS ARM

Physician Pleads Innocent In Hepatitis Deaths

CAMDEN, N.J., (AP)—Dr. Albert L. Weiner, 43 year old osteopathic physician of nearby Erlton, pleaded innocent Thursday to charges of manslaughter growing out of the death of 15 of his patients from serum hepatitis.

Judge Anthony C. Mitchell, of Camden county court, set Weiner's trial for June 5, over the objections of Weiner's lawyer, William Tomar.

But District Attorney Norman Heine pointed out that Weiner has an application pending for restoration of his license to practice medicine. The license was suspended last November.

Weiner was indicted Monday on 15 counts, stating he "did feloniously kill and slay" each of the patients.

At that time Heine said the State believed the defendant "guilty of criminal negligence that amounts to involuntary manslaughter."

The State started investigating the outbreak of serum hepatitus among Weiner's patients last October.

After Thursday's plea, Tomar issued a statement in which he asked the public not to make up its mind until it had heard both sides. He added:

"During the ordeal to which Dr. Weiner has been subjected over the months, many of his patients have come forward with expressions of confidence and offers of aid. To them he desires to convey his heartfelt gratitude.

"He faces the future with fortitude, for he feels certain that the great misfortune that has occurred cannot justly be ascribed to him."

Garber Leaves Hospital After Routine Checkup

Little League Minors Open Season Tomorrow

The Minor league division of the Royersford Jaycee Little league will open its sixth season tomorrow with four games scheduled.

Beginning at 9 a.m., the Jaguars will play the Falcons at the Washington street Junior High field, while the Owls will meet the Shamrocks at Victory park. At 1 p.m., the Pelicans take on the Beavers at the Washington street field, and the Zebras meet the Woodchucks at Victory park.

The Minor league division of the league was started in 1956 with four teams entered, the Lions winning the championship. The next year the league was increased to six teams with the Shamrocks copping the league honors. The loop was increased to the present eight teams in 1958 when the Woodchucks took the league crown. The Pelicans have won the championship for the past two years in the eight league circuit.

In addition to a 64-game schedule there will be the sixth annual Major league Rookies-Minor league All-Stars game scheduled in June.

THE FIRST half of the Minor league schedule will see four games played every Saturday, two at Victory park and two at the Little league field, located on the grounds of the Washington street Junior High school.

The second half of the schedule will have all games played during the weekday mornings at Victory park. The second half of the schedule will be under the supervision of the Spring-Ford Recreation department, with Robert McNelly, Spring-Ford Senior High baseball coach, as athletic director.

Both the Major and Minor league division of the Royersford Jaycee Little league were established to provide baseball for boys between the ages of 8-12 in the Royersford-Upper Providence-Limerick area. All boys, who attended the tryouts during the past two weeks have been placed on one of the 13 teams in the two leagues.

Altogether there are 182 boys assigned to the teams of the league. The league affairs are handled by the Royersford Jaycee Little league with funds supplied by the Royersford Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Royersford Community Chest and public contributions.

Employer Is Fined For Spanking Typist

PENZANCE, England (AP) — The slow, haphazard girl typist had her choice, the boss testified in his defense Thursday: she would be fired for slovenly work or take a spanking across his knee.

She replied she didn't want to be dismissed so, said company director Kenneth Norman Harvey, 45, he spanked her.

The girl, 16, and unidentified by name in court, said he told her afterward, "Don't go back into the office making a fuss and don't tell anyone about it."

He was fined 20 pounds—$56—for common assault.

Sugar Ray Robinson Acquitted By Court

NEW YORK (AP) — A court Thursday acquitted Sugar Ray Robinson, former middleweight boxing champion, of a paternity charge. Three Special Sessions Court justices divided 2-1 in the verdict.

Barbara Trevigne, 34, a singer and dancer, had charged that Robinson was the father of a boy born to her Feb. 9, 1953. She and Robinson are Negroes.

The majority of the court held that her case was not sufficient to establish Robinson as the father.

DANCE SCHEDULED

Ike Is Accorded Military Salute

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived in Augusta Thursday for a weekend of golf and received what he said was his first military salute since his rank of general was restored.

The salute was given at the airport by the Richmond Academy High School band, which broke into a few bars of "Attention," followed by "Ruffles and Flourishes".

Obviously touched, Eisenhower told members of the band this was the "first military salute I have received since my rank was restored. I am astonished at such a welcome."

He was also greeted by city officials and some 20 fellow members of the Augusta National Golf Club where he will stay for a few days.

Anita Stewart, Noted Actress In Silent Movies, Dies at 65

The actress was found unconscious in the bedroom of her Beverly Hills home by her sister, Lucille Stewart. A fire department rescue squad worked over her for an hour.

The coroner's office said an autopsy would be needed to determine cause of death.

The sister gave the actress' age as 59, but official records show she was 65.

The two sisters had been living together since the actress' divorce from George Peabody Converse, New York millionaire and socialite, 14 years ago. Converse was the son of a former president of U.S. Steel.

Lucille, once married to Ralph Ince, pioneer director, told this story of the death: "It was so sudden. We went out to a restaurant last nite for dinner. Anita drove home and we watched television. She got up to get a drink of water this morning. Then she lay down on the bed — and that was the end."

Anita was a Brooklyn Cinderella who went to Erasmus High School there with the Talmadge sisters, Norma and Constance, who also were to become silent screen stars.

In 1915, she played the title role in "The Goddess," a top cliff-hanger serial of that era. It made her a star.

During World War I, she eloped to Darien, Conn., with Rudolph Cameron Brennan, a Navy ensign who had been a society catch in New York and Washington.

Brennan, who used the stage name Rudolph Cameron, co-starred with his wife in two 1917 movies made in the East. When she came to Hollywood later, he managed her career. They were divorced in 1928.

She married Converse here in 1929 at a wedding that was attended by Prince Holm of Denmark. They separated in 1946. There were no children from either marriage.

Miss Stewart's biggest hits were "Virtuous Wives" in 1919 with Conway Tearle, William (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd and Hedda Hopper.

In 1920, she scored with "In Old Kentucky" in which she played a female jockey.

Over the years, her leading men included Wallace Reid, Jack Holt and Elmo K. Lincoln, the films' first Tarzan.

In 1936, she turned to writing novels. One, "The Devil's Toy," was quite successful.

"I started to write," she said in 1936, "because I couldn't stand doing nothing. I won't say I'll never make another picture because I don't know. But my advice to the younger players is, 'Don't act, write.'"

Gary Cooper Voices Thanks For Messages

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Cooper, critically ill with cancer, said Thursday: "I know what is happening is God's will. I am not afraid of the future."

He added in a memo to the press:

"Please make sure everyone knows how much their messages have meant.

"Rocky (Mrs. Cooper) reads many of them to me and they have added greatly to my peace of mind."

The famed actor has received messages of sympathy and cheer from all over the world since his grave illness was announced last month.

He is confined to his home, under sedation for cancer which has spread throughout his body.

His physician, Dr. Rexford Kennamer, said there has been no significant change in his condition during the past week.

Hussars Can't Find Right Man

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Hussars declined Thursday night to provide a soldier for domestic duties in Princess Margaret's household.

"We do not have a man in this category," declared Lt. Col. H. M. Barton. "We are really very sorry," he added, "but we just don't seem to have the right chap."

The turndown came a few hours after it was learned that the attractive princess wanted an upstanding military type for a footman in the household she shares with her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Margaret specified in her request that the prospective footman might be a soldier who is unfit to serve overseas with the Hussars, who soon are going to West Germany.
